

President Demands Congress Act 'Now' On Housing Situation

LOS ANGELES, June 14 (AP) — President Truman roared a new challenge to Congress today to get busy "right now" on price controls, housing and half a dozen other "very serious situations."

"They still have time," he said. "And if they haven't time, they ought to take it."

Here in Los Angeles where he received the greatest ovation of his western campaign tour, Mr. Truman ticked off an eight-point program he wants from Congress now. For the most part, he listed the things for which he has been hammering since he left Washington June 3.

But today he added Federal aid for education and health.

HIS EIGHT POINTS:
Price controls, housing, social security expansion, a health program, a restored Labor department, education, a farm plan including price supports, a water and flood control program.

Renewing his bid for housing "at a cost which will be easy on the people who have to pay the bills," the President struck directly but not by name at Chairman Wolcott (R-Mich.), of the House banking committee and Chairman Leo Allen (R-Ill.) of the House rules committee.

He said Wolcott has been "sitting on" the Taft-Ellender-Wagner housing bill. He said Wolcott got the surprise of his life when three Republicans teamed up with 11 Democratic members to blast the bill out of the committee.

"The rules committee," he said, "now can roost on that bill until the Congress adjourns, unless the people of the United States wake up and do something about it, and force action."

BUT THE RULES chairman, he said, is "a little bit tougher" than the banking chairman, so I doubt very much whether we will get action.

The President's new lambasting of Congress took place in a night club setting, the Cocoanut Grove of the Ambassador hotel. The dimly lit oasis was filled with some 1100 people invited by the press club of Greater Los Angeles.

Movie radio comedian Red Skelton set the tone for the Truman speech with a crack before hand, that Congress is "Bingo with billions."

After his speech, the Chief Executive conferred for 20 minutes with James Roosevelt, son of the late President and state Democratic chairman, and prominent southern California Democrats.

ROOSEVELT TOLD reporters afterward that one delegate inquired whether the President will stand by his civil rights program that has brought party discontent in the South.

Roosevelt said Mr. Truman replied he had "never yet made a proposal and backed down on it."

"The President," Roosevelt said, "said he was going to keep on building up the record against the Republicans and keep the facts before the people."

School Band Concert Tonight to Include State Meet Numbers

Many of the same selections that won the Pottstown Senior High school the State championship in Oil City several weeks ago will be played at 8 o'clock tonight, when the group presents a one-hour concert in the high school auditorium.

Directed by William F. Lamb Jr., the boys and girls will play three of their contest numbers—the "Constellation" overture, the "National Emblem" march, and the "Flight of the Bumble-Bee."

Thomas E. Miller will play a tuba solo, "Pomposo," and the trombone quartet will present a novelty selection, "Two Pairs of Slippers."

A "BOLERO" WILL BE presented by the trumpet trio, and Charles Hunsberger will play an accordion solo.

Other band numbers will include "Deep Purple" and "Panis Angelicus."

Young Miller, who won a "superior" rating for student conducting at the Oil City competitions, will conduct an overture, "Monte Cristo."

The purpose of the performance is to raise funds to buy the champions jackets and sweaters, as a memento of their triumphs in statewide contests.

Approximately $400 is needed to purchase the garments.

NEW SERGEANCY ON POLICE FORCE GETS APPROVAL

Surprise Move by Daly Overrides Objection by Council Committee Head

A second police street sergancy was created by borough council last night.

In a startling, unexpected move, coming just when the councilmen were ready to adjourn, Councilman Gerald J. Daly, of the Ninth ward, arose to make the recommendation.

"I don't mean to interfere with the police committee," he explained, "but I think we should have another street sergeant on the police force."

Daly is a member of the police committee, which is headed by J. Max Creswell, West ward. C. Roy Bush, Ninth ward, council president, immediately called for a vote.

"All in favor say 'Aye,'" he ordered.

There was a chorus of "Ayes."

"Opposed," No," Bush intoned. There was one room-filling "No!" from Creswell.

Creswell did not elaborate upon his disapproval of the recommendation.

The job of filling the new vacancy was turned over to Burgess William A. Griffith and the police committee.

Reliable sources had reported that Creswell and Daly, both Democrats, had been increasingly at odds over policies and recommendations of the police committee.

Last night, however, was the first time that the difference of opinions resulted in a public break.

As Daly made a recommendation that Creswell flatly opposed.

REPORTING FOR his committee, Creswell recommended that the Eagle Signal company, of Moline, Ill., be given a contract for traffic light equipment at the intersections of Beech and Hanover streets, and High and Pine streets.

The cost, $14,577.80, was the same for all four bidders. Creswell reported, "and we have Eagle equipment in the borough now."

For installation, Creswell recommended John W. Snyder, of 27 North Hanover street. Although Snyder bid $1705.36, as opposed to the $1698.10 of the Bates Brothers, "I am sure," Creswell pointed out that Snyder alone has had experience with underground traffic signal installation.

Both recommendations were approved.

Scouters to Aid at Water Battle

Twenty Boy Scouts, representing all Pottstown troops, will be on hand to make the collections when the Good Will Fire company have their land and sea water battle in Manatwary park 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Robert U. Borneman, Scout executive of the Continental district, promised last night that he would arrange for the Scouts' participation.

Proceeds from the affair will be turned over to The Mercury Relief fund and administered by the Salvation Army.

BOTH THE FIRE FIGHTERS and cops promised a slam-bang battle Sunday, when they blast each other with a stream from a fire hose.

NEARING END OF 45 YEARS' SERVICE . . .

Graham to Retire From Post Office Job

By FRANK DOSTAL (Mercury Staff Writer)

Assistant Postmaster George C. Graham yesterday announced he would retire from the post office department shortly after he celebrates 45 years of service on July 1.

His resignation, Graham said, probably would become effective in the latter part of August.

For the graying but still active Graham, the 45 years have been ones of watching the Pottstown post office grow and expand until it now handles more than eight times the volume of business it did when he first started.

Graham began his career in the department as a messenger boy and special delivery carrier in 1903 when he was 15 years old.

For three years he was a familiar sight on Pottstown streets, peddling his bicycle through all sorts of weather to deliver the mail.

In 1906 he became a regular clerk. His first job was to back-stamp all in-coming letters by hand, a practice which since has been discontinued. From this work, he moved up to dispatch clerk and then

Happy Climax to Neighborhood's Determination and Hard Work

A dream of Seventh ward neighbors who wouldn't say, "Let George do it," became a reality yesterday as Happy Hill playground was formally opened. Raising the flag is Herbert Huneke, of 724 Walnut street, while Mrs. Joseph J. Yohn, 767 Walnut street, stands by with children of the neighborhood for whom the playground was built. In the center, directly behind the little girl getting the push is 12-year-old Barbara Ann Montague, 179 Sheridan street, winner of the contest that gave the play area at Beech and Sheridan streets official name.

FAMILY ROUTED BY GAS FUMES

17-Year-Old Youth Arouses Parents and Relatives; Refrigerator Is Removed

Because Richard Pollock, 17, of 313 Walnut street, returned from work promptly this morning at 12:30 o'clock, four members of his family avoided possible asphyxiation from escaping ammonia gas.

Asleep in the upstairs of the home were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert R. Pollock, and his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hilbert.

Ammonia gas leaked from the refrigerator and began to fill the upstairs.

RICHARD ENTERED the house after hurrying home from work at the Stanley G. Flagg and company plant. Half-blinded by the fumes he opened windows, rushed upstairs, woke his family, and called the Philadelphia Steam Fire Engine company.

The four older people put on the first clothes they could find and left the house. Four firemen carried the refrigerator out to the back porch, where it continued to fume.

"We were just lucky to get out," the older Pollock said. He added that his son had been made ill by his contact with the gas in the downstairs.

Early this morning, the gas was still too strong in the house to permit the family to return.

Neighborhood Dedicates Self-Built Playground

By FRED SELBY (Mercury Staff Writer)

The Seventh ward's Happy Hill playground was dedicated last night before adults who understood the significance of the dedication and flag-raising, and before a throng of tots who understood only that now they have a safe, attractive place to play.

The speakers were Burgess William A. Griffith, Carroll L. Rutter, borough solicitor; Dr. David D. Detar, health board member; Francis Donnon, recreation director; David R. Williams, commander of Post 780, VFW; Capt. Meral Cox, of the Salvation Army, and H. B. Millard, who responded on behalf of the neighborhood playground directors.

Williams turned the flag over to Herbert Huneke, 724 Walnut street, after commending on Flag Day, which fell yesterday, and remarking that the Sheridan and Beech street playground offers recreation to children "regardless of the resources of the child's parents, regardless of race, creed or color."

While the 21-piece Pennhurst State school band played the national anthem, three uniformed VFW members, John Amwake, Smith McAllister and Howard Kalis, raised the flag.

The brief, simple ceremony marked the end of the neighborhood's drive to give its children a playground, and it marked the beginning of a drive to raise $1200 to complete its equipping.

SEVERAL HUNDRED children of several races, many creeds and a galaxy of shapes and sizes—stood at respectful attention while the flag was raised. At no other time was an accurate estimate of their numbers possible. They were too busy enjoying their playground to stand still.

Human Interest Rates High for Tipster Awards

Tips on two human interest stories won prizes in The Mercury's weekly news tip contest yesterday as judges listed them high among the tips called in during the past week.

Winner of the $5 first prize was Karl R. Creasy, Pottstown RD 1, who 'phoned a report of his 9-year-old son, Mark, capturing a rarely seen shrew. The prompt report brought not only a story of the capture, but a picture of the tiny animal as well.

Ralph Shaner, 24 South Evans street, called in the only straight news tip placing in the contest to win second prize of $3.

At the height of the thunderstorm the past Monday night, Shaner called in a report of lightning striking a tile chimney at 55 South Evans street. His quick call brought reporters to the scene for first-hand accounts of narrow escapes.

Gertrude Atherton Dies; Was Famous Novelist

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14 (AP)—Novelist Gertrude Atherton, 90, died in Stanford hospital here this afternoon after several weeks' illness.

The noted author, one of the most prolific writers of her time, suffered a slight stroke on May 27, and was taken to the hospital immediately.

Her first novel, "The Downfall of a Nation," was published in 1892. Since then almost up to her death she had averaged a book a year.

Perhaps her best known work was "Black Oxen," published in 1923, which dealt with the subject of artificial rejuvenation.

LEGALITY ISSUE RAISED IN TESTS

Blood Exam Requirement In Borough Code Rapped By Restaurants' Counsel

The legality of the blood test required by borough ordinance for food handlers was openly challenged last night by C. Edmund Wells, attorney for the Pottstown and Suburban Restaurant association.

The meeting of the association's board of directors and the board of health last night in a crowded upstairs room of borough hall at times saw tables being pounded and declarations shouted.

The association and its attorney were there to seek repeal or modification of the requirement which would include a blood test in the semi-annual physical examination now stipulated for all food handlers.

At the close of a private session after the restaurant group had left, the board agreed to give its answer to the proposal after getting legal counsel from Borough Solicitor Carroll L. Rutter today.

WELLS' COMMENT on the legality issue came after Dr. David D. Detar, board member, had asserted that any food handler should be grateful to get a complete physical check-up, including a test for venereal disease, for the $4 fee the board can provide.

Admitting that he would not have brought up the matter had he not felt it necessary, the lawyer said, "It might be nice for everyone to know for say $5, if he had a venereal disease but there is a legal need for that in this case?"

He added that the board cannot prescribe for all citizens but only those in the province of public health which, in this case, means ensuring that food handlers have no communicable diseases.

To support his claim that transmission of venereal disease from food handler to restaurant customer is not an issue in the case, Wells told the board members that the State board of health, the State Restaurant association and four local doctors have all advised him that such transmission is "remote."

Boasting his argument further, the attorney declared that no other community in Pennsylvania re-

Borough Man Fined $5 On Disorderly Charge

Adolph Hums, of 169 North Franklin street, was fined $5 and costs on a drunk and disorderly conduct charge at a hearing last night before Justice of the Second Ward, C. Kelley, of the Second Ward.

Prosecutor was Hums' wife. He was arrested at his home Sunday by three Pottstown policemen.

Another hearing scheduled before Kelley was canceled when Louis Marcheziano of Phoenixville failed to appear. He forfeited $10 posted early yesterday morning on a disorderly conduct charge.

Marcheziano was arrested by Mayor Pottmanman Stanley Brown on High street. Brown said the Phoenixville man, acting as a man who disappeared while Brown made the arrest.

PARKING BANS, ONE-WAY LANES OF TRAVEL SET

Second, Third Readings Necessary Before Changes Will Be Put Into Effect

By ED ROSENBERG (Mercury Staff Writer)

Parking bans and one-way streets were established by council last night as it held its June meeting in borough hall.

The over-all traffic ordinance only passed its first reading however, and is not yet in effect.

Banned was parking on Charlotte street, from High to Beech streets, and on the south side of Beech street, from Hanover to Charlotte streets.

From Manatwary to Adams streets, Walnut street was made westbound only, and Chestnut street, eastbound.

The recommendations for the ordinance were made by the police committee, J. Max Creswell, West ward, chairman.

Creswell last night declared, "I think we should pass this ordinance on one reading only," but Borough Solicitor Carroll L. Rutter advised the councilmen to proceed with one reading at a time.

THE QUESTION OF utilities, such as sewers, water facilities and curb stakes, for the Brookside Homes project in the Tenth ward, was brought to council's attention at the beginning of the session.

Anthony L. Veach and Earl M. Kerstetter, representatives of the Mt. Carmel firm erecting the 110-home, million dollar project in the Tenth ward, said that the first homes were nearly ready for occupancy, and that utilities were needed if they were to be sold.

Gerald J. Daly, Ninth ward, chairman of the highway and sewer committee, told the council that plans for Eighth and Tenth ward sewers were complete, but still had not been returned from Philadelphia, where they were sent for State approval.

Borough Manager Dow I. Sears recommended a temporary cesspool if sewers were not dug for the first completed homes, while C. Roy Bush, Ninth ward, president of council, declared that the sewer committee should meet "as soon as possible" to discuss the matter.

Allen Davidheiser, Eighth ward, noted that the sewer under discussion would pass through the Junior High school grounds, and that "if there is any way possible to hurry this job, it ought to be done."

He added, however, that council-

Housing Bill 'Can't Help,' Council Told

Here is how borough council answered the question, "What about low-rental housing?" at its meeting last night.

William H. Reinhardt, Sixth ward, asked, "Have we considered the possibility of forming a committee of citizens and councilmen to try to do something about the housing situation?"

Burgess William A. Griffith told him that his Citizens' Housing committee had examined a copy of the proposed Taft-Ellender-Wagner Housing bill, now pending in Congress, and had reported that they "could find no provisions for funds to help us build."

The burgess continued, "I'll report back to you as soon as we have some more definite information."

Just before council adjourned, Allen K. Davidheiser, Eighth ward, praised the borough's program of erecting a building in the North End for its beneficial effect upon housing.

"More than 100 new homes in that area are probable within the next two years," he declared.

HOUSE APPROVES MORE AID FOR CRIPPLED VETS

Pensions for Widows, Orphans Also Boosted in Unanimous Vote

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—Two bills estimated to boost by $161,000,000 annually the benefit payments to disabled veterans and to widows and dependents of deceased veterans were passed today by the House.

Both skimmed through without a dissenting vote and went to the Senate, which has passed similar bills calling for a lesser annual expenditure. Unless the Senate accepts the House changes, the bills will go to a Senate-House conference committee for a compromise.

A 350 to 0 roll-call count approved a bill which the veterans' administration said would add about $100,000,000 to the annual cost of pensions for widows and dependents of World War I and II men whose death resulted from their war service. This estimate covers the first year's cost only and will fluctuate thereafter.

The bill would boost from $60 to $75 monthly the payments to a widow without children. A widow with one child would receive $115 instead of $78, with $20 extra for each additional child. The present allowance for children averages $15.60 per month for each child in excess of one.

THE MONTHLY PENSION TO children alone would be boosted from $30 to $50 for the first child, with $20 for each additional child. The present monthly rate for additional children, when there is no widow, averages $12.

Dependent mothers or fathers would be boosted from $54 to $75 a month if only one parent survives. If both survive, the combined payment would be raised from $60 to $90.

Boy Charged With Murder of Girl, 8, Attempts Suicide

CHICAGO, June 14 (AP)—Roy Adams, 14-year-old confessed slayer of a girl playmate, won himself a 24-hour guard in the county jail today by attempting to hang himself and then having tantrums.

The suicide attempt came shortly after a criminal court appearance in which Chief Justice Cornelius J. Harrington accepted Adams' plea of innocence to a charge of murdering Nancy Schuler, 8.

The youth has signed a statement that he smothered the girl with pillows in his bedroom in the Adams apartment, May 27.

Judge Harrington directed that Adams be examined by the county behavior clinic. The hearing was continued to June 25 when the clinic report is to be given the court.

FRANK SAIN, WARDEN of the county jail, said that young Adams was put into a cell in the observation tier of the jail after returning from his arraignment session. There, he removed his belt, and, standing on a cot, tied one end around his neck and the other to an overhead bar of the cage-like enclosure.

Sain said the belt broke when Adams jumped off of his cot. The warden said guards reported that the youth then screamed and beat his head against the steel plate covering the lower part of his cell wall.

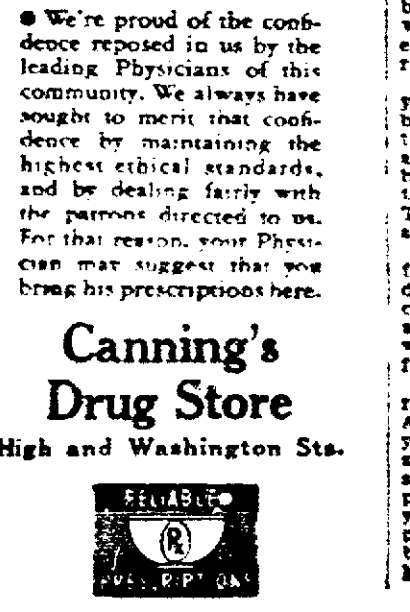

"He said he would go on a hunger strike," Sain said. "He told me 'I'll die somehow. I don't want to live.'"

Palestine Fronts Quiet As Truce Is Obeyed

CAIRO, June 14 (AP)—All of Palestine's scattered fronts were quiet today as the Holy Land experienced its first peaceful day in six and a half months.

The Israeli government announced it was complying with the immigration terms of the four-week armistice. Disagreement developed, however, over the question of food convoys for Jerusalem's 90,000 Jews.

The truce commission met in the Holy City to frame a report to Count Folke Bernadotte, the United Nations mediator, on the Jewish refusal to permit a check of convoys at Bab El Wad.

Bernadotte himself was on Rhodes setting up headquarters for negotiations designed to turn the present armistice into lasting peace.

HE WAS SCHEDULED to fly to Cairo tomorrow for talks with Arab leaders and to go to Tel Aviv, the capital of Israel, on Thursday. Arab political and military leaders gathered in Cairo today to decide on their position in the forthcoming negotiations.

One of the first things Bernadotte will have to determine is whether Arab and Jewish leaders will agree to go to Rhodes for negotiations through him. It is not expected that an attempt will be made to have a roundtable meeting of representatives of both sides.

Neither the Arabs nor the Jews have shown any sign of changing their positions on the basic issues in dispute — the continued existence of the Jewish state and control of future Jewish immigration.

A NO-MAN'S-LAND meeting of nine American and British correspondents served to demonstrate the peace that prevailed in Jerusalem on this fourth day of the truce. Five of the newsmen are attached to Trans-Jordan's Arab legion. The other four had been covering the fighting from the Jewish side of the lines. They met for more than 15 minutes in the middle of Suleiman street just outside the walls of the old city.

The United States Naval officers serving as truce observers reported that Galilee, where fighting had continued until yesterday morning, was quiet. The officers reached Tel Aviv from that northern front last night.

The convoy dispute apparently centers on conflicting interpretations of the truce terms.

Observers Proposed For Immigrations

LAKE SUCCESS, June 14 (AP)—The United Nations mediator suggested tonight he might put control officers in ports outside Palestine to observe immigration into the Holy Land.

A United Nations press officer said Count Folke Bernadotte of Sweden, U. N. mediator, had asked that the U. N. call the attention of its members to the Palestine truce agreement against immigration of men of military age into the Holy Land.

Bernadotte was said to have suggested that the U. N. also ask that the immigration authorities of various countries co-operate if the mediator found it advisable to put control officers in certain ports.

It was presumed here that the ports he referred to were outside the Middle East but no port was named.

"In all sincerity," the GOP chairman continued, "I can assure you tonight that by and large Mr. Truman has received forbearance, sympathy and co-operation from the Republican Congress. There have been times when Congress has saved Mr. Truman from himself."

Reece said that Mr. Truman had "inherited many evils when he entered the White House."

But, he continued, "he has retained most of them and has created new ones of his own."

Reece said President Truman "has been denouncing Congress" from "rear platforms and in half-filled auditoriums all across the country."

"Probably the most revealing political utterance of Mr. Truman's trip was his remark to a California audience that 'I like old Joe Stalin.'"

SENATE GROUP CLEARS WAY FOR ANTI-LYNCH BILL

Judiciary Committee Agrees to Place Measure On Calendar; Hopes Dim

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—One of the measures in President Truman's civil rights program—an anti-lynching bill—was cleared today for a possible Senate vote, but imminent adjournment made chances of passage slim.

Southern Democrats have vowed they will attempt to talk to death any such legislation.

The judiciary committee voted today the bill it finally approved, but Senator Eastland (D-Miss) left no doubt it is still objectionable to him.

"I am going to fight it 'till Hell freezes over," he said.

Eastland is a member of the committee which voted, 10 to 3, to send the measure on to the Senate calendar. There it will join other civil rights bills—anti-poll tax and fair employment measures—which have been languishing there for months.

THE REPUBLICAN POLICY committee has tabbed the anti-lynching bill as the easiest of the three to pass, and has kept it on its list of "desirable" legislation. But no time for debate has ever been allocated.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich), principal author of the bill, declined to predict whether the Senate will act. He noted only that the GOP leadership has kept the measure on its priority list.

The bill would make conspiracy between members of a lynch mob and officials of Federal, state or local governments "to commit, instigate, incite, organize, aid or abet" a lynching a Federal felony.

Conviction would carry a punishment of up to $10,000 fine and up to 20 years in prison, or both.

In addition, the bill would authorize civil rights for unlimited damages by persons injured in a lynching or attempted lynching and by the next of kin of anyone killed.

SENATE UNIT VOTES To Restore Cut in ERP

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—The Senate appropriations committee voted today to spend $6,125,700,000 for foreign aid this coming year. This is about $408,010,225 less than the administration requested.

The committee approved the bill after three hours of arguments. In effect it restores an estimated $1,175,000,000 of the reduction voted by the House.

U. S. Gets Injunctions; Shipping Strike Off

NEW YORK, June 14 (AP)—The threatened nation-wide maritime strike appeared off for at least 80 days today after the Federal government got three injunctions against it.

The three orders were signed by Federal judges in the East and Gulf coasts, West Coast and Great Lakes phases of the dispute.

They automatically brought into play the 80-day cooling-off period provided by the Taft-Hartley law, Federal officials said.

Late today officers of the CIO National Maritime union, largest of the seven unions involved, sent out instructions to all members directing that the injunctions be obeyed.

THE MESSAGE WAS SIGNED by Joseph Curran, NMU president, and other officers representing both the Right and Left-Wing factions in the big seamen's union.

Earlier, Curran and a Left-Wing NMU New York port agent had bickered over the union's stand on the injunctions.

The agent sent telegrams to seamen aboard ships here instructing them to prepare for a strike tomorrow midnight. Curran said he had no authority to do this.

The instructions sent by the union leaders said to "fill all requests for manning, avoid any stoppages of work which could be looked upon as contempt of the restraining order."

Violations of the injunctions, the message said, "will place our union and membership in grave jeopardy and can subject the union and its officers and members to severe penalties."

The instructions pointed out that the union hiring halls would remain in operation under the court orders.

Auto Workers to Open Wage Campaign Today Against Ford Company

DETROIT, June 14 (AP)—The CIO Auto Workers carry their third postwar wage campaign tomorrow into the car industry's last major stronghold — the Ford Motor company.

With both General Motors and Chrysler already signed up, the Ford "bargaining may test whether one big three company can hold the line on wages when the other two already have given raises.

The UAW is asking Ford for a 30-cent an hour increase and a host of other benefits ranging from medical and pension plans to restoration of paid lunch periods.

A month ago — before either GM or Chrysler had settled — Ford issued a plea to the union to hold the line on wages in the interest of the consumer and "public security."

Red Blood Cells Must Be Kept Up If You Want To Feel Alive

Thousands Now Regaining Old Time Pep, Vigor and Drive By Releasing Vibrant Energy To Every Muscle, Fibre, Cell

Overwork, undue worry, and lack of certain foods often reduce the red-blood strength — and starved, weak, puny blood just hasn't the power to keep up your energy and drive.

Every day—every hour—millions of this red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula, which contains special and potent, stimulating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or exactly—this the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloating and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh all over, hollow cheeks. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps build sturdy health.

NEW SERGEANCY —

on the floor by councilmen, were referred to the police committee.

They included a complaint by George P. Ruyak, Third ward, that trucks were unloading on a sidewalk in his ward, obstructing pedestrian traffic and creating a traffic hazard.

Daly suggested that, with the permission of the State, signs warning of the nearby Manatwiny park playground be placed along Manatwiny street.

"Now that the weather's warming up, that's going to be quite a busy place," he predicted.

William F. Lamb, Eighth ward, seconded Daly's proposal, and added one of his own.

Lamb asked that trucks unload at the intersections of Charlotte and Oak streets and of Charlotte and Beech streets, so that the traffic lights would not be obscured.

After council action had been taken on all traffic, parking and police committee matters, a letter from the parking and traffic control committee of the Pottstown Chamber of Commerce was read. This made a number of recommendations for changes in local traffic regulations.

ALLEN K. DAVIDHEISER, head of the theater committee, told council that the Warner Brothers corporation, owner of the King street opera house, had not yet informed borough officials whether it was willing to sell the old building to the borough.

Bush informed council that he wanted "to correct an injustice to one of our members, C. Raymond Eppheimer, of the Seventh ward."

The council president declared that Eppheimer had been accused "unjustly" the past May of failing to make any mention of the North Keim street water hole, adjacent to the Brookside Country club golf course.

"It is true that it was not brought up in council," Bush declared, adding that Eppheimer had told him of the matter, and that he had not failed his constituents.

Bush also thanked Daly for making a statement at a meeting of highway committee, explaining the situation.

"It is the choice of a councilman to bring matters either to the chairman of the proper committee or to the president when he feels it would save time not to bring it before council as a whole right away," Bush pointed out.

IN HIS REPORT, Burgess Griffith mentioned the clearing of Hubley's Run, along South Washington street, and the dedication of the Seventh ward playground, made last night.

He also invited all the councilmen to attend his Sunday school class in the Emmanuel Lutheran church at 9:15 o'clock Sunday morning.

Finally, Griffith suggested that council visit the Pottstown Community camp, near Earlville, before the July 3 opening day.

They decided to inspect the site at 2 p. m. Saturday.

All councilmen were present last night, except C. Raymond Eppheimer, Seventh ward, and Clinton H. Miller, Tenth ward.

In attendance were Earl R. Strange and Creswell, West ward; William Romich and Ellington B. Heck, Second ward; Peter J. Lawler and Ruyak, Third ward; William B. Twaddell and Harold Spahr, Fourth ward; Ralph Weis and Daniel C. Kern, Fifth ward; William H. Reifsnnyder and Mahlon F. Frick, Sixth ward; J. Wayne Knause, Seventh ward; Davidheiser and Lamb, Eighth ward; Bush and Daly, Ninth ward, and W. Mark Henricks, Tenth ward.

The meeting began at 8 p. m., with the invocation by the Rev. John L. Smoker, pastor of the Baitzell Evangelical United Brethren church, and ended at 9:20 p. m.

DEDICATION —

179 Sheridan street. She won the contest open to neighborhood children for naming the playground.

Happy Hill was chosen from among a host of entries by members of The Mercury editorial staff. Donnon presented her with the $5 award.

BEFORE MILLARD thanked "all of the friends who helped us the past two months in building this playground," residents of the Seventh ward were complimented on their achievement by the guest speakers.

Typical were Rutter's remark that "I am amazed at what you have done in such a short time," and Dr. Detar's comment that "within a few years, I believe, you will have a playground here that will be the envy of all those around here."

While Seventh ward residents adjourned for coffee and cupcakes, the playground directors were kept busy explaining to guests the set-up built in the past two months.

CHARLES MILLARD, 763 Walnut street, chairman of the directors, explained that the drive to raise $1200 will open July 14 with a festival at the playground.

He said that the money will be used to make or purchase such things as a sliding board, more swings, a simple merry-go-round and a fence.

Millard pointed to the flagpole as a symbol of the practical way the neighborhood went about building a playground when the recreation commission, under its present budget, was unable to use the lot contributed to it by the school board.

The pole was a decorative touch, but the neighbors decided decoration was not enough. Two basketball backboards were at the lower half, while neighborhood men were eyeing it last night with a view toward erecting a battery of floodlights above the backboards.

OTHER FEATURES Millard pointed out were the see-saws, the nearly-completed steel swings, the 18 x 16 steel sandbox with seven and a half tons of top-grade sand, the stone and cement fireplace and the picnic tables.

He emphasized that all the material for these items had been contributed by Pottstown business firms, most of whom insisted on remaining anonymous. The work was either contributed by the firms or done by the men themselves.

While none of the neighbors wanted individual credit for the project, Millard said, he couldn't conclude without introducing the other directors of the enterprise:

They included Mrs. John J. Yohn, Mrs. Montague, Mr. and Mrs. Huneke, H. B. Millard, Mrs. Fred Smith, Marilyn Wasson, Paul Wagner, Grant and Royden Fizz, Mrs. Bessie Weidensaul and Mrs. Fred Spieth, who will head the corps of volunteer adult supervisors.

52 REGISTERED AT PLAY CENTER

Eight-Week Program Of Recreation Starts at West Pottsgrove Grounds

The West Pottsgrove Civic association playground opened yesterday for an eight-week season with 52 school-age youngsters registered. Open from Monday through Friday between 1 and 5 p. m., the playground will offer a regular schedule of baseball, softball, quolls, volleyball, badminton, croquet, deck and paddle tennis with swimming once a week.

For the smaller tots, there are sand boxes, swings and a slide.

The group will use the Sunnysbrook pool every Tuesday for swimming. Supervising at the pool will be Mrs. Esther Hospador and William Goehman. Mrs. Hospador supervises only at the pool, but Goehman will be at the playground throughout the week.

THE OTHER FULL-TIME instructor at the playground is Mrs. Mary Boyer who, like Goehman, is a teacher at West Pottsgrove High school. She will remain at the playground on Tuesdays to direct those who do not want to swim.

Later in the Summer the supervisors have planned a scavenger hunt, kite flying tournament, field day, hobby and pet show and a trip to a museum.

All youngsters of the Stowe community have been invited to take part in the playground program by registering any day in the afternoon.

The playground is behind the school building and constitutes an area about as large as two football fields. The civic association spent several years readying it for use and still is improving the plot.

In all, five baseball teams practice on the field. There is a Midget league team in the Pottstown Recreation circuit and four teams of boys between 12 and 16 sponsored by the association.

escapes by residents of the building.

Third prize of $2 was won by Jake Fugate, 1108 Center avenue, for his account of a small rabbit which was found in the lunch bag of Peter Nessler, 120 South Franklin street. Fugate's account of the incident appeared in Saturday's All Around the Town column.

TRAFFIC REFORMS —

oil approved plans for the project "a year ago," and that delays could not be blamed on the councilmen.

Burgess William A. Griffith added his assurance that something ought to be done.

"These houses won't do anybody any good if they're not occupied," he pointed out, "and they won't be occupied without sewers and water."

Later in the meeting, an agreement between the borough and the school district was approved, allowing the sewer extension line to pass through the Junior High school athletic grounds.

AN ORDINANCE was passed, opening and ordaining eight streets in the Eighth and Tenth wards, mostly in the area marked out for the Brookside development.

Borough Manager Dow I. Sears gave a brief resume of the water survey, made in Pottstown, South Pottstown and Stowe from March 13 until the past June 8.

Increased revenues of $7310 will be forthcoming as a result of the exhaustive check, it was reported. The survey was made at a cost of approximately $2000.

Approval for sewers on Grace street, Reist avenue and Maplewood drive, totaling 1861 feet, were approved.

Daly, reporting for his highway and sewer committee, said that he recently inspected sewer and road developments in the borough, and pronounced them "truly making progress."

"There are only about 25 men on the highway crew, and they're doing a remarkable job," Daly continued.

IN HIS REPORT, Sears further discussed the sewer program in Pottstown, telling councilmen of some of the difficulties encountered in the way of solid rock.

A water main leading to Washington Hill and serving the Brookside project is in the offing, Sears said.

"We're fortunate that we ordered the pipe in October," he said. "We just got it recently at a price 20 percent below what it is today."

He praised the Bethlehem Steel corporation for its clearing of Hubley's Run, the odorous stream wandering along South Washington street that has brought increasingly outraged cries from nearby residents for the past two decades.

WATER BATTLE —

that the contestants can feel the full force of the water.

Bathing suits will be the costume for the sea phase of the battle, while on land the men will be equipped with raincoats and helmets to protect them against stones or other debris flying from the ground with the force of the water behind them.

A sound truck of the Schulz Baking company will be on hand to amplify the results of the pitched battle.

The water battle will revive a pre-war tradition, in which the local policemen and firemen staged a similar contest regularly.

BLOOD TESTS —

quires the blood test and that many do not demand a physical exam."

AFTER THE LAWYER had expressed the claims of the association, now numbering about 50 restaurant owners and managers, the restaurant group left and the board met "to give them an answer."

Although there was doubt of the firmness of Wells' legal ground in challenging the board's right to insist on the blood test, nevertheless there also was doubt on whether the board itself was in a complete suit of legal armor.

Also in doubt in the board's mind was whether they may designate a doctor by whom all food handlers must be examined. The board wishes to revise the ordinance to include this measure to keep examinations at a uniform good level, it was explained.

Half way through the private session, J. Alfred Marquet, secretary, telephoned Rutter who said he could give the board legal advice at 9:30 o'clock this morning.

Pending the borough solicitor's opinions the board will meet again in the near future and draft an answer to the association.

THE MAJORITY opinion last night was a mild modification of the blood test clause which would call for a blood test on the first examination and repeated in later exams only at the discretion of the doctor.

But they were reluctant to leave out the test altogether or not insist on it for the first examination.

"If we leave out the blood test the next thing you know they'll be asking to have the eye test or the mouth test or something else left out," declared Dr. Detar.

OVERRIDDEN —

through 25. It is practically certain to be passed this week.

The committee cleared the bill after keeping it "bottled up" for five weeks. Chairman Leo Allen (R-III) said the vote was 6 to 4.

HOUSE REPUBLICAN leaders already had stamped "must" on the bill and it is now slated tentatively for action tomorrow. The rules committee voted to limit general debate to three hours, but debate on amendments may take considerably longer.

The Senate has already passed a draft bill of its own.

In another highly controversial issue, the Senate disregarded the wishes of the Administration and passed a bill to revise the reciprocal trade agreements act and extend it for one year.

The bill requires the Federal Tariff commission to fix so-called "peril points" beyond which it felt the President could not go in making trade pacts without injury or threatened injury to American producers.

Watch the Children
VACATION time is here. Schools have been closed, and children are spending their days outdoors... some playing in Pottstown's streets.

So it's time to warn motorists they have a responsibility for the safety of children. Parents, too, have certain responsibilities, for mothers and fathers must exercise more than usual vigilance in the months their children are released from school discipline and the daily lessons in safety practices.

Chances for accidents are increased. Unless motorists are extremely cautious the child accident toll will be heavy during the vacation period. All drivers must refrain from "taking chances" where children are concerned.

It should be recognized by motorists and parents that the hazard to children is greater in the summer months when they are freed from the restraints and safety lessons in the classrooms. Therefore, the duty devolves upon drivers to be doubly careful and upon parents to apply the cautionary measures essential to safety.

Unemployment Insurance Abuses
STATE unemployment insurance becoming something of a racket in many instances? The official figures lead one to that unsavory conclusion.

In 1946, a year of full employment, the ratio of benefits paid to contributions collected for the country as a whole was 120.1 percent. Eighteen states paid out more in benefits than they received in unemployment levies, and three paid out more than twice as much.

The experience in 1947 was a little better. But the ratio of benefits paid to contributions collected was over 70 percent, and several states paid out more than they took in.

It must be kept in mind that this happened during years when the national income, employment and production in general were at an all-time peak. In another depression with its consequent mass unemployment, it is almost impossible to visualize what would happen to the funds. Obviously, their receipt would be only a drop in the bucket compared to outgo, and a stupendous burden would be placed on the taxpayers.

Those who have studied the matter are convinced that many men are using the unemployment funds as a means of obtaining free vacations when they don't feel like working—and that laxity either in the law or in the administration of the law is making this possible. That is an inexcusable abuse of a system which was set up to help those who were out of work through no fault of their own and couldn't find a job after a period of honest, aggressive searching. It must be stopped, and it can only be stopped by action within the states.

The Fire Engine
WE ALL like to watch the fire engine go by. It's an exciting sight, with the siren screaming and the firemen hanging on for dear life and the dogs and the children tearing down the street after it.

But the sight at the end of its run may not be so stimulating.

It may be a grass fire, easily put out with extinguishers. It may be some deserted shack which should have been torn down long ago. It may be minor damage to a building.

But, on the other hand, it may be a fire that puts the biggest employing concern in town out of business for months—or a fire that destroys a house that represents the savings and labor of years—or a fire that burns somebody to death.

Whatever kind of fire it is, great or small, costly or unimportant, it makes its contribution to our disgraceful record of fire waste. Maybe the damage to a building only was the little fire you saw. But, day after day, month after month, year after year, thousands of such fires occur. And that—when we add in the occasional conflagration that does damage running past the million mark—is why American carelessness with fire costs us well over half a billion a year.

The signal bell sounds in the station house and the red engine answers another call. Maybe it's fun to see it shriek by—but it's the kind of fun we pay for in lives and dollars and total destruction.

Prospects
AN 8 TO 12 percent increase in refinery output is bigger than oil men hoped for a few months ago. New England, mid-Atlantic and Midwest states will have to put up with spot shortages during peak drilling this Summer, but otherwise the higher output will about match the need.

Sympathy for Clerks; 'Cruel' Fate of a Dog

Better in the Factory

To the Editor: Please consider this a reply to the poor character who resents retail clerks getting a half holiday on Wednesdays.

It seems strange that you can't adjust your complicated routine so that some of your neighbors, and other unfortunate employed as retail clerks, can enjoy a half holiday on Wednesdays.

In your letter, you mentioned the word "shift." This indicates that you are a factory employee, receiving a substantial or at least a living wage for your toll. You have a union to protect you, and chances are that you work five days a week and wouldn't work from 9:30 a. m. until 9 p. m. on Fridays unless you were sure of getting premium pay, possibly double time.

While I am not a retail clerk, I am very familiar with their local set-up and they have my sympathy. Most of them are paid 45 cents an hour, the lowest wage allowed by Federal law. They must work from early in the morning until late at night each Friday.

They have no security and there are many cases of employees getting fired just because some department head or owner got out of the wrong side of the bed, or because some customer, probably like yourself, resents the fact that the clerk didn't snap her heels and bow low when waiting on you.

Brother, give me the factory with its good salaries, its union security and its short work week. I say let's congratulate the retail clerks and start a drive for a full day off on Wednesday, instead of a half day.

Pottstown THE DEFENDER

Shot While Home Awaited It

To the Editor: Pottstown should be proud of its brave police force.

Ten days ago a little black dog was dropped from a car on a street in Pottstown. Since dogs are more loyal than humans, he stayed on the exact spot where he was dropped, awaiting the return of the master who no longer wanted him.

He watched every passing car and cried pitifully at times when the truth must have dawned on him that his master would not return. This crying disturbed residents and the police were notified.

When the police failed to come, three residents called a person from out of town. This person came at once with food for the dog, an idea that had not occurred to those residents who professed such pity for it. Also, since the dog had been broomed by one resident, it was now leary of women and scurried away just as it was almost in the arms of safety and protection.

Then this person went to the police and they promised, if any more complaints came in, they would hold the dog until this person could call for it. This person emphasized that she would adopt the dog. The police promised they would call if the dog was caught.

Two days later they not only caught, but shot the dog. I wonder if those police officers would have been so brave if it had been a fierce lion they were charging instead of a defenseless little dog.

And why didn't those disturbed residents call a humane society?

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.
MOST of us think of nosebleeds in connection with a childhood scuffle or a minor accident because these are the ways in which we ourselves have experienced it. But though nosebleeds are usually a trivial condition, it can be serious.

The causes of nosebleeds are many. They range from slight injuries to certain grave disorders of the blood such as hemophilia or leukemia. Fortunately, these diseases are rare and most nosebleeds are due to much more trifling causes. In children, for instance, bleeding is frequently due to the bad habit of picking the nose. Enlarged adenoids also make for nosebleeds and sometimes the infections of childhood, such as measles and chickenpox, are accompanied by bleeding from the nose.

In older people, severe nosebleeds may be one of the first signs of cancer of the nose or nasal sinuses, or it may indicate the presence of tumors of other sorts. These tumors, made up largely of blood vessels, are particularly prone to cause heavy bleeding. The most common location of bleeding from the nose is the lower part of the septum. In most instances, it is easy to see the point from which the blood is coming, and, often, putting pressure on the area is sufficient to stop the bleeding. This pressure is applied by holding the whole of the soft part of the nose between the finger and thumb and keeping it firmly pressed together for at least five minutes.

Where it is necessary to call a physician, he may apply a piece of cotton soaked in epinephrine to the area for fifteen minutes. It also shrinks the lining membrane so that the small veins can be distinctly seen. Then the bleeding points can be burnt or cauterized with heat, chromic acid, or silver nitrate.

The patient should not be down on his back while the nose is bleeding. If he does, the swallowed blood will cause him the additional discomfort of flatulence and sickness of the stomach.

GOP Political Blunders Stir Democrats' Hopes

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, June 14—The Democrats' "misery" as Congress nears its windup is that the Republican record on Capitol Hill might give them an outside chance to win if Henry A. Wallace were not in the race, and if they had a powerful candidate as a substitute for Harry S. Truman. In a sentence, that is the cloakroom analysis of the presidential campaign as of the present moment.

Leaders such as Sam Rayburn and Alben W. Barkley, minority and majority leaders of House and Senate, respectively, will not admit this opinion openly. But the two convention officials' closest legislative friends do, and they also intimate that this viewpoint is held among the hierarchy of House and Senate.

REFUSAL: The reason for the Democrats' mixed feelings is the GOP's refusal to act on the batch of legislation wanted by the great masses of voters, as recently set forth in this space. Another factor is the threatened division among the top Republicans on the question of the amount of foreign aid.

The more conservative Republican House bosses are sitting tight on the lid. They figure that the election is "in the bag" because of Mr. Wallace's prospective raids on the Democratic vote, and they do not want to disturb that situation. An illuminating incident reveals the degree of their determination to pass no more laws than are necessary between now and the convention.

BLUNDERS: On June 7, the House adjourned after only a 59-minute session out of respect for the late Rep. Thomas L. Owens, who was only a first-termer. But when Otville Zimmerman, of Missouri, a four-term man, died two months ago, they sat until late in the afternoon before paying honor to him by closing up shop. They used the new-comer's death as basis for legislative filibuster against the clock.

However, the Democrats realize that they cannot capitalize on these political blunders, although they might mean victory for them at any other time and under any other circumstances.

JITTERY: The more conservative faction of the Republican high command regards the present political picture as so comforting and reassuring that it does not want to daub it.

In fact, it may abandon the strategy of harassing and heckling the touring Truman lest it win sympathy for him by making a martyr of him.

Like a seemingly sure winner on the eve of a world series, the football game of the year or a championship bout, the GOP leadership is as jittery as it is confident. It realizes that an upset could happen in such a turbulent and volatile year as 1948, as it did for the Democrats in 1924.

In listing prospective pitfalls, here are their chief ones:

1. The withdrawal of President Truman and the substitution of "Ike" Eisenhower. It is believed the general would run only if Mr. Truman himself requested it as the only basis for his own sacrifice.
2. A settlement with Russia on such terms and in such an atmosphere that it would leave none of the ifs, ands and buts which turned out to be the legacy of Potsdam, Yalta and Teheran. It is felt that only a Truman-Stalin conference, together with the negotiation of a long-term alliance among all the great allies of the war, could furnish such an assurance.
3. The possibility that Mr. Wallace, as a result of the Republicans' record on Capitol Hill, might poll such a tremendous mass vote that he would damage the GOP almost as seriously as the Democrats. Linked with this prospect as a Democratic reinforcement would be the collapse of the Southern revolt.
4. A Wallace withdrawal in favor of Mr. Truman.
5. As fierce a deadlock at the Republican convention as the Smith-McAdoo forces staged at Madison Square Garden in 1924, with the various candidates and factions returning home to sulk in their clubhouses.
6. A Taft-Vandenberg division over the amount of ERP financial aid that will depict the GOP as a crew of office-seekers on a raft instead of a party qualified or entitled to form a government.

VALUE: Rep. Helen Gahagan Douglas, of California, recently told an amusing story on her Hollywood husband, Melvyn Douglas. Aside from its humor content, it may raise the question of the value of the indoctrination, psychological and educational courses conducted among our troops during the war and among foreign peoples through such media as the Voice of America.

Actor Douglas served with the psychological units during the conflict, and on one occasion he described the blessings enjoyed by citizens of a democracy.

He pointed out that a "rat could look at a king" and, so one opinion goes, that "for a pittance the humblest citizen could gaze on the glories and stars of Hollywood."

When he had finished his essay on democracy, he asked for questions. A tall, skinny Alabama boy arose and drawled in a squeaky voice:

"Tell me, Mistah Douglas, how does it feel like to be kissed by Greta Garbo?" That was this G's understanding of the beauties of the democratic way of life!

How's Your Mind?

THE ANSWER, QUICK!

1. What does the phrase "De profundis" mean?
2. Who commanded the "Rough Riders" in the Spanish-American War?
3. In wartime, why do primitive tribes paint their faces?
4. What is the name of optical glasses worn against the eyeball?
5. Who is now Army chief of staff?

Ex-waiter Ex-judge

JOBS UPON A TIME

The 1948 Pulitzer best play of the year award winner, Tennessee Williams, author of A Streetcar Named Desire, really scratched for a living before success came. He was once a waiter, then a feather picker on a California squab ranch. Winning a $1,000 award for a play, Battle of Angels, Tennessee went to New York. His play, however, was a failure. Williams wrote his first successful play, The Glass Menagerie, in Hollywood. Tennessee, whose real name is Thomas Lanier Williams, wrote Streetcar in Mexico. He took the Tennessee name because his ancestors fought the Indians in Tennessee. He attended the Universities of Missouri and Iowa.

John Rance Garner, former vice president of the United States, was born three years after the Civil War ended. Though he did not have much formal schooling, he became a county judge and Texas representative for two years before he was elected to the United States House of Representatives in 1903. Garner was in Congress 30 years, with a term as speaker of the House, when he was chosen President Roosevelt's first running mate in 1932, and re-elected on the second-term ticket. After that Garner retired to his farm in Uvalde, Tex., where he says he is going to live until he's 93. Born in 1868, he has 13 years to go.

MODERN MANNERS

Little children are never dressed in black for a funeral—no matter how it is. White is the best color for them.

IT HAPPENED TODAY

The Magna Carta, which granted certain rights to Englishmen, was signed on this date, 1215, by King John at Runnymede. On this date, in 1836, Arkansas, 25th state, was admitted to the Union, and in 1846 the Oregon boundary treaty was signed between Great Britain and the United States at Washington.

Hollywood

By EDITH GWYN

HOLLYWOOD, June 14—Hardly a day has gone by on the sets where Betty Grable has been starring in "Burlesque" with Dan Daly, that someone hasn't remarked about the resemblance Jack Oakie, who is playing a featured role in that film, bears to the late, great comic, W.C. Fields. Oakie is just as fat now as Bill Fields was in his hey-day and besides, he looks uncannily like him. All this has given Fox studio execs an idea for yet another biography. And if the rights can be cleared you'll see Oakie starring in a follow-up performance to his current one, titled The Life of Bill Fields.

THE LADIES Home Journal, which was really caught short a couple of years ago when Jennifer Jones and Bob Walker divorced just as the magazine came out on the stands with a story about them called, "Hollywood's Happiest Couple," is about to give Hollywood one more try. It's doing a long piece on the home life of Irene Dunne and her husband, Dr. Francis Griffin, and we really don't think they're risking anything on THAT one! They've been married over 20 years—though the figure they gave out to the public is somewhat under that!

FRIENDS of Murray Weinger, the owner of Miami's fabulous Copacabana were plenty sad to hear that fire has gutted the so-successful place. Weinger, who was here only a couple of weeks ago to sign up talent for his floor-shows, was full of enthusiasm about that plush showcase... Lionel Barrymore's newest composition, called "Hollywood Bowl July 24th with a full symphony orchestra... Viking Press has just handed Gene Fowler a $35,000 advance on that book he's writing about the life of N. Y.'s late Mayor, the beloved Jimmy Walker.

THE PHIL BAKERS have a stack-date for November... The other day was the anniversary of Jura Harlow's death and a pal of Jura's phoned to say that as he passed by Grauman's Chinese Theatre very early in the morning, he noticed a little cardboard milk-container full of flowers resting on the slab in the forecourt which bears Jean's foot-prints. On the container dangled a card which said merely, "From a newsboy"... Carey Grant, not only went to the dinner for the United Jewish appeal, but he very quietly and with no publicity, handed the organization his check for ten thousand dollars!

DONNA DRAKE IS fully recovered from a year and a half's affliction with yellow jaundice and goes into "The Girl from Jones Beach" with Virginia Mayo and Ronald Reagan... The scientists at Palomar are so excited. First day they used their stupendous 200-inch lens, they signified the hundred inch lens on Mount Wilson!

Speaking for Myself

SUMMER is leucen in and the temperature is again up, if you will pardon my Early English accent and it's a safe, if depressing, prediction that any minute and any fahrenheit now, New Yorkers are going to get hot under the collar and everywhere else. And, as they have for every Summer since Father Knickerbocker was in knee-pants, tempers will rise with the mercury.

I realize there's very little that I, or anyone else can do about the weather, but I refuse to give up without a fight. At least I'd like to pass along a few heartfelt suggestions for making the imminent heat easier to take.

It would help, for instance, if all theater owners and restaurateurs took a solemn vow to resist staunchly their common impulse to run amok with the air conditioning. Air conditioning is a lovely thing, but there's a limit.

Too often, in the past, I've entered a movie theater in robust health and come out a sad, sniveling specimen. And not because I'd seen a Bette Davis picture, either—but because the sadistic theater manager had made too free with the freon.

Keep the interior temperature up to —well, at least 30 degrees, won't you, boys? Take my word for it, very few members of your audience are likely to be visiting Eskimos.

NEW YORK SUMMERS would be a lot more bearable too, if people didn't keep reminding one another of how unbearable too, if people didn't keep reminding one another of how unbearable they are. Frequently, when the weather is grueling, what makes it that way isn't the heat, but, as the old saying goes, the humanity.

Such wilted remarks as "Hot enough to fry eggs on the sidewalk, isn't it?" can turn me from a comparatively comfortable creature into a limp, soggy mass of discouragement. The egg-frying cliché, in short, makes me feel like a two-day-old omelet.

The same goes for such bright witicism as "Isn't this a scorcher?" or "How are you standing it?" Frankly, I can't.

I'd also like to see a reasonably stringent law passed against men who droop around town in those baggy seersucker suits that invariably make both the wearer and the watcher warmer than more respectable apparel.

And women with blotchy, coffee-colored goo all over their legs in lieu of stockings are a depressing sight, too. Leg makeup can be very attractive, properly applied, but too often it looks as if the wearer had stood at one end of a room, posted her husband at another, blindefolded him, and ordered him to toss the leg makeup at her by the spoonful.

IN THE NOT-SO-GOOD old Summer-time, I also could live without newsreel photos of the teeming, sweltering masses at Coney Island, store windows full of beaver coats, and pictures of Esther Williams in a bathing suit sitting on a cake of ice. They all serve to accentuate the negative, but violently.

If all these conditions were eliminated, it really would be a great help in cooling my fevered brow and, I'm sure, the brows of my fellow Gothamites. A Summer in New York might even be rather a pleasant prospect. Jeeres, hand me that travel folder — the one about a Summer vacation in the snow-covered Alps.

I just want to fan myself, with it, that's all.

CARY GRANT and his best girl of a few seasons ago, blonde Bettie Hensel, have resumed their romance. Pals predict this time it will orange blossom out...

Wow! Have you seen Rocky O'Grady's cruising around in that new emerald green convertible?... Paul Feigay and Oliver Smith are trying to arrive at an out-of-court settlement with the "Billion Dollar Baby" backers who'd like to retrieve more of their money.

In Dry Arizona ... To Study in Europe ...

ARID COUNTRY — Mrs. Helen Bechtel, who moved from Pottstown to Bisbee, Ariz., was here for a visit the past rainy month. She was doubly impressed on her return to the desert land by its dryness and enclosed a clipping about Bisbee residents running out in the street to get wet during a shower. She added, "As for me, give me the rain and snow and the beautiful green grass and hills of good old Pottstown. Only when one gets out here does one realize the beauty of our hills in there."

TRAVELER — John S. Hoffecker, of 717 High street, will sail from New York within ten days for a Summer of study at the University of Oxford in Britain. He will start his course July 2 and return here late in August. It's all part of the student exchange plan...

DOCTOR — Franklin Edmund Kenyon, South Pottstown, received his master of arts degree in English during commencement exercises yesterday at Lehigh university in Bethlehem.

MORE SHEEPSKINS — Three young Pottstonians were among the 408 graduates of the Drexel Institute of Technology, when that institution held its 58th commencement exercises yesterday. From the college of Business administration John H. Stamm, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Stamm, of 464 North Charlotte street, received his degree of bachelor of science in Commerce. Shirley J. Neyhard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest R. Neyhard, 1377 Queen street, received her bachelor of science degree for her work in the retail management course, while Andrew L. Kozak, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Kozak, of 456 South street, was awarded his bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering.

THEY CALL IT ROMANCE — What passes for romance these days sometimes also passes understanding. Take the case of Mrs. Dorothy Lawlor, the New York divorcee who offered her heart by want-ad to the likeliest bidder, minimum offer considered: $10,000. She chose a Daytona Beach barkeep who bid $13,000. His other qualification was "a sense of humor." His whimsical nature was more fully revealed when his $13,000 package arrived for inspection. He said he already had one wife. It is pleasant to note that all this rates attention for the reason that it is unusual. Happily, most brides don't demand $10,000 and a practical joker, but still prefer nothing and a sense of honor.

DON'T TRY TO REMEMBER — Natives of the New Hebrides Islands bind the heads of newborn babies. The tightly wrapped head causes it to slope backwards. The natives consider slanted skulls a mark of beauty... New Haven, Conn., founded by the English, has a larger percentage of Italians per population than any other city in the United States... Ocean plants are not found deeper than a quarter of a mile from the surface of the water. This quarter-mile represents the limit of sunlight penetration... If a diver could descend six miles into the ocean he would have to withstand six tons of pressure against every square inch of his body.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

WHEN DAVID, our youngest child was 22 months old the telephone might ring and after I would stop typing to answer it, I would then find that my chair and typewriter had been usurped. "My first!" David would exclaim with a mischievous roll of his brown eyes, and then he would reach out to strike the space bar on this typewriter.

Whenever I would leave my chair, he would always run to get there ahead of me and keep singing out, "My first! My first!"

He picked up that phrase from Danny, a year older than himself.

Of all the choice places I could have selected for writing these daily Case Records, I seem to have chosen the most noisy, for I work at home. My files and data are at my downtown office.

But from years of habit, I seem to be able to write better when I am in my office at home, so I always bring my case notes here.

The children romp and play in my office to the point that Mrs. Crane can't understand how I can concentrate at all.

But I'm so accustomed to them that I do better to the tune of their noise than when it is too quiet.

Invariably I have gone through this routine week after week for the 12 years I have been writing this psychology series.

All personal letters and such casual compositions, I dictate downtown, but when it comes to original or creative writing, I feel most natural in my accustomed haunts. That's an example of the power of habit.

In fact, it even irritates me to write letters at home, for letters are associated with my downtown office from many years of habit.

Moreover, I have always used yellow paper when writing these Case Records so I can't get in the proper mood if I try to type them on white paper.

Most of us are slaves of habits. As long as the habits are constructive, they serve as an asset. When, however, they subvert our intelligence, waste our time and money, or cause undue annoyance to others, then habits become bad task-masters, and should be broken.

Inasmuch as I don't get to spend as much time at home as I should like, especially while the children are young, I feel that my habit of writing Case Records here is a constructive one. The children then know I am around all day, and it seems to please them.

Other writers have just as peculiar literary

EAT A BETTER
BREAKFAST—
FEEL BETTER
ALL DAY

In many families, breakfast as any important meal of the day, often becomes an "eat and run" affair. Taking time out to eat a better breakfast will make you feel better all day. It is apparent that most everybody needs a nourishing meal in the morning to provide the necessary energy for the duties of a fast moving day ahead.

Breakfasts need not be elaborate or difficult to prepare—but they should contain nourishing, healthful foods.

Below are typical menus for better breakfasts prepared and tested by Marian Kemp, Director of our Home Service Bureau.

100 Boys to Study Under Hill Masters At Summer Camp

One hundred boys will study this Summer under 15 Hill school masters at The Hill School camp, Wolfboro, N. H., A. Pierce Saunders, director, announced yesterday.

Saunders, who is dean and assistant head master at The Hill, said the group would be composed of approximately 60 Hill school students. The remaining boys will be students from other schools and those preparing to enter The Hill in the Fall.

The school will open July 2, and will end Sept. 2. Mornings and evenings will be given over to study, while the afternoons will be devoted to recreational activities.

Among the masters from The Hill who will teach at the camp are Isaac Thomas, head of the Latin department, Leonard A. Rice, English instructor, and George D. Robins, president of the Pottstown school board.

Henry J. Colbath, of The Hill school science department, will be business manager.

4 FFA Members Place In State Convention

Four Chester county Future Farmers of America have placed in the three-day state FFA convention which closed the past Friday in State College, it was announced last night.

Neal Burtner, agriculture supervisor of North Coventry High school, who motored the four lads to the convention, gave the results as follows:

Donald Lloyd, of Norco, fourth, and Gilbert Frame, Warwick, 24th, in the Agronomy class which had 30 entries.

William Dollanczyk, Norco, 19th among the 130 entries in the Poultry division and George Kreps, Norco, 12th in the Public Speaking class with 19 contestants.

Kreps won the Chester county FFA public speaking contest.

Orchestra to Entertain At Optimist Club Meeting

Twelve students studying under Leonard L. Gross, Pottstown music teacher, will form an orchestra of all-electric string instruments to play for the Optimist Club Ladies' Night meeting tonight.

The club will meet at 6:15 o'clock at Art's Diner, West High street.

Bible School Opens In Trinity Church; 75 on Class Rolls

More than 75 boys and girls registered for the four departments of the inter-denominational daily vacation Bible school which opened yesterday morning in Trinity Evangelical Congregational church, South Washington street, according to the Rev. W. P. Bowers, pastor.

Ages of the registrants range from 4 years in the primary department to 16 years in the intermediate division. The Rev. Bowers stressed the fact the school is open to young people of all denominations and that registrations can still be accepted.

The concluding exercises of the school will be held Friday, June 25, in the church, the Rev. Bowers said yesterday.

Departments and teachers follow: primary, Mrs. W. F. Bowers, teacher; Mrs. Irvin Geiger and Mrs. Richard Bell, assistants; beginners, Mrs. Harold Leimbach, teacher; Mrs. James Schults, assistant, junior, Mrs. Russell Schaeffer, teacher; Mrs. Frank Auchey, assistant; intermediates, the Rev. Bowers, teacher.

Trio Escapes Injury As Auto Leaves Road

Three persons narrowly escaped serious injury the past Sunday at 3:30 p. m. when the automobile in which they were riding left the cement highway at Hickory park near Layfield, and ended up in a field after grazing a willow tree.

Driver of the automobile, a sedan, was Mrs. George Bennett, of Philadelphia, who was accompanied by her husband and their son. Only injury was a bloody nose, sustained by the young boy.

It was reported the car first swung to the right and then off the cement onto the shoulder, where it began to swing violently as the driver tried to right it. It broke through a culvert railing, just missed hitting a large willow tree and came to rest in the field. It was so close to the tree that it scraped it. The vehicle was towed from the field by a wrecker from Gilbertsville Motor company. It was taken to the garage in Gilbertsville and from there the family proceeded home in the damaged automobile. Damage was chiefly in the front end.

Berks County Queens Feled by Camera Club

Mabel A. Grofe, Boyertown High's bi-centennial queen, was one of more than ten such queens who were entertained by Berks Camera club last night at club headquarters in Reading. Members of the group saw colored motion pictures on Yellowstone National park, taken by August Heidrich, a club member.

U. S. Foreign Policy Invites Danger, Lebanese Student Tells Rotary Clubmen

Dr. Jean Sayegh of Lebanon in the Near East, warned Boyertown Rotarians of the dangers of a U. S. foreign policy which is based on political expediency in an address to the club last night in Boyertown Inn. He spoke on the topic, "Lebanon and the Arab League."

He stated he fails to comprehend our foreign policy, which he said has been one of friendship to the Arabs but which he feels was reversed recently when President Truman recognized the new nation of Israel.

The young student now working on a doctor of dental surgery degree at University of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia said he could never understand how a nation which doesn't own another country can proceed to give that nation away.

TODAY, HE STATED, 45 percent of the Palestinian population is Jewish, whereas not so many years ago, the figure stood at 17 percent. Why, he asked, did the Jews pick out Palestine, already overworked, when there are so many other places on the earth which could absorb additional population.

Dr. Sayegh said the Arabs of the Arab League were very favorable to the United States and had hoped that we would step in and keep the Middle East straight. He warned that his countrymen are opposed to Russian infiltration.

Dr. Gordon F. Borneman arranged for Dr. Sayegh's visit to the local club last night.

It was announced no meeting would be held Monday because of the joint club session at Reading Country club Thursday, June 24. Birdsboro club will be host for the affair. In addition to the host club and Boyertown other clubs participating will be Pottstown and Kutztown.

Henry A. Body and Ernest Smith attended the rally of the 179th Rotary district at Bryndenwood, near Reading, the past weekend.

Rev. Schneck Officiates At Baptismal Ceremonies

Recent baptisms by the Rev. Harper L. Schneck, pastor of Church of the Good Shepherd, Evangelical and Reformed, included Ronald Alan Seidel, son of Earl M. and Marion B. Feigley Seidel, at the personage, 35 West Philadelphia avenue, the past Sunday at 1:30 p. m., with the parents as sponsors.

Also Terry Lee Angstadt, son of Howard S. and Erma B. Spohn Angstadt, in the church at 3 p. m. the past Sunday.

Douglas R. Wade, Boyertown RD. was received into Church of the Good Shepherd, Evangelical and Reformed, by renewal of profession, and Frank Yanocha, of Linfield, was admitted by profession of faith, the Rev. Schneck announced yesterday.

Borough Pastor Named Instructor At Camp Mensch Mill

The Rev. Harper L. Schneck, pastor of Church of the Good Shepherd, Evangelical and Reformed, will be an instructor at Camp Mensch Mill from June 21 to July 3.

The camp is operated by the Evangelical and Reformed denomination and serves eight synods in the area. The Rev. Schneck will teach the course, "The Church That Jesus Founded," and "What Happens When I Worship." The campers during the period that the Boyertown pastor will be at camp will be of junior high school age.

The Rev. Schneck also will have charge of daily outdoor vespers. He will reside at camp.

Attending from the Boyertown church during that period will be Dorothy Ann Hoch, Lenore Houck, Jean Gumm, Joan Conrad and Eleanor Eisenhart.

OTHERS SCHEDULED to go to Camp Mensch Mill, located near Huff's church, and the periods they will attend, include Margaret Eisenhart, who is at camp now for the first junior high camp, and Flora Reitsmauer, who will attend the first senior camp from July 19 to July 31.

The Evangelical and Reformed denomination operates Camp Fernbrook, near Pottstown, as well as Camp Mensch Mill. The following from Good Shepherd Reformed church, Boyertown, will attend there: third junior camp, June 20-June 26, Paul Berkly, Randall Berkly and Thomas Graver; fourth junior, June 27-July 3, Marilyn Houck, Betty Ann Weiss and Mary Eshbach; fifth junior, July 4-July 10, Clarence Fulmer, Richard Shell and Armand Weller.

The Rev. Schneck pointed out that the Sunday school is paying one-half of the expense of those going from the school as an educational investment. The collections from the past Sunday's Children's Day services will be used to help defray campers' expenses. The camps are sponsored by the denomination's board of Christian education.

W. F. Miller to Remain In Hospital Two Weeks

William F. Miller, 27 South Jefferson street, was reported as "doing nicely" in Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore, Md., but doctors there said that it would be necessary for the Boyertown man to remain there at least two more weeks.

Miller suffered a heart attack in Baltimore the past May 16 and has been in Johns Hopkins hospital since that time.

Visiting him the past Sunday were his wife and his daughter, Betty, and his mother, Mrs. Clara Fell, of Engelsville.

Troop 3 Patrol Notches Highest Score In District Contest at Camp Hopewell

The Rattlesnake patrol of Troop 3, Boyertown, was high scorer in the patrol camping contest sponsored by the Pioneer district, Daniel Boone council, Boy Scouts of America, at the annual camporee held the past weekend at Camp Hopewell, near Birdsboro. Richard Weller is patrol leader.

Scoring is based on the ability of members to conduct their patrol camps. Second place went to the Stag patrol of Troop 1, Boyertown. The Rattlesnake patrol scored 678 points out of a possible 680, while members of the Stag patrol scored 665.1.

Almost 20 Boyertown scouts and leaders made the trip. Jacques B. Kline, scoutmaster of Troop 1, accompanied his group, while Lester D. Gottshall, scoutmaster, and Eli Eisenhart and Harold Zern, assistant scoutmasters, all of Troop 3, accompanied their boys.

THE FOLLOWING advancements were made to second class, Charles Mutter, Richard Vergey, Troop 1, Bally. James Beach, Troop 1, Boyertown, Russell Glauser and Luther Garman, Troop 1, Oley. To first class, George Haddad, John Weller and John Rutter, Troop 1, Boyertown, and John Felix, Troop 1, Oley.

Merit badge awards made were to Clarence Zimmerman, Troop 1, Amity, woodcarving; Bruce Bieber, Troop 1, Oley, farm mechanics, animal industry, gardening, agriculture, music, chemistry and path-finding; George Schwenk, Explorer Post 3, Boyertown, coin-collecting; Herman Kumpf, Explorer Post 3, Boyertown, cooking; Grover Weir, Troop 31, Birdsboro, physical development; Robert Shingle, Troop

Bridal Gowns of Yesteryear to Be Shown At Panorama in Searles Methodist Church

"Brides of Years Gone By," might well be the title of the bridal gown revue which will be staged in Searles Methodist church June 22 at 8 o'clock. Plans to further the show were made at a meeting of the committee last night at the home of Mrs. John Kurtz 362 Beech street. General chairman in charge of the affair.

Plans call for the modeling—by local young models of the light measurements of 25 gowns—some of which are more than 70 years old. These gowns were all worn once upon a time by the young radiant brides from the Pottstown area, though many have traveled a great many miles since.

The entire list of dresses are not as yet complete but will include one worn by Mrs. Jesse R. Evans, widow of the ex-burgess; and one worn by Mrs. Catherine Saylor Yarnall. It will include the bridal array of one Edith Helene Searles when she married Mr. H. M. Boone back in 1878. This is being donated by her daughter Mrs. Edith Boone Corbett.

MRS. LLOYD DECKER will have modeled a gown her great grandmother wore in 1877, while another charming gown will be that of the late Lucy Helster Ellmaker which she wore when she married the late Joseph Coates Walker in Earl Township on a cold March day in 1886.

Probably the oldest gown to be shown will be that donated by Mrs. Allen Hoffer, descendant of one of the earliest settlers of Pottstown. The exact date of the gown has not been ascertained as yet, but is known that at the time of the wedding, Pottstown had a population of 500.

Mrs. Delaine Story will give for modeling the gown her mother wore for her wedding, which should date about 1865. Another wedding dress to be modeled will be that of Mrs. Elwood M. Reider. Of interest too will be the dresses worn by the four brides now residing in Pottstown, including that of Mrs. John Marachalk, who was married in a German church in 1947. Mrs. Edward Stanton, the most recent bride of Searles Methodist church will wear her wedding gown of a few weeks.

MODELS FOR THE FUNCTION will include: Miss Mary Ann Begle, Mrs. Jesse Begle, Mrs. George Wright, Mrs. John Hart, Mrs. Raymond Stevens, Mrs. Karl Gaver, Mrs. Norman Arndt, Mrs. George Huxoll, Mrs. Robert Boyer, Miss Mary Wahl, Mrs. Clay Reinert and several others.

Organ music for the bridal background will be presented by Miss Jane Ann Coates, 16-year-old organist of Gap Methodist church, while the narrator of the histories of the gowns will be Mrs. Harold Rohn.

Junior bridesmaids are the Misses Shirley Kuntz and Barbara Cressman while the flower girls will be Beverly and Sandra Matchette and Muriel Ann Kurtz.

COMMITTEE MEMBERS who are working hard to make the affair a success include: music, Mrs. George Emery; flowers, Mrs. Elmer Yohn, Mrs. Harold Cressman, Mrs. John Kurtz; refreshments, Mrs. Jacob Wahl Jr.; publicity, Mrs. Robert Harriman; posters, Mrs. Joseph Whalen; tickets, Mrs. Harry Mentzer; dressmaking, Mrs. George Stein, Mrs. James Matchette, Mrs. Edward Johnson; ushers, Mrs. Walter Meyers, who will be assisted by the Messers, Angelo Gallo Jr., Robert Cressman, Stanley Boyer and Calvin Myers; property, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Pirm, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Derh, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boyer, Mr. and Mrs. George Wright and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rohn.

Double Anniversaries Honored With Banquet

In honor of the wedding anniversaries of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Linderman, Linfield, who observed their 45th wedding anniversary Sunday, and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Horner, also of Linfield, who observed their 21st anniversary on the same day, a banquet was held in Art's diner Sunday at noon.

Those attending were: Miss Ruth Linderman, Miss Florence Schaeffer, Nancy Horner, Mary K. Horner, Earl Horner Jr., Mrs. Blanche Horner, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Linderman, Mr. Richard Gray, and Miss Fay Horner, all of Linfield; Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Linderman, Pottstown, and Mrs. Carrie Linderman, Reading.

Miss Hazel Hoffman Is June Bride of Mr. Joseph Hallman

Zion's Reformed church was the scene of a pretty June wedding Sunday afternoon when Miss Hazel Hoffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kirlin Sr., 219 Queen street, became the bride of Mr. Joseph Hallman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Hallman, 16 Montgomery street, at 2 o'clock.

In the presence of immediate relatives and close friends the double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Howard Kosman, pastor. For her wedding dress the bride chose a two-piece suit of pink and white with which she wore a corsage of mixed flowers. Serving as matron of honor was her sister-in-law, Mrs. Pauline Kirlin, who appeared in a two-piece gabardine suit of London tan with which she wore brown accessories and a brown, open crowned hat. Her corsage was of daffodils and roses.

MRS. KIRLIN, mother of the bride, chose a two-piece pink crepe dress, while Mrs. Hallman was attired in a gray floral print. Mr. John Kirlin performed the duties of bestman.

Following the wedding a reception was tendered the couple at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dinono, 971 Hill boulevard, Hillcrest. The following attended: Mr. and Mrs. John Kirlin Sr., Mr. and Mrs. George Ruhlman, Mrs. Edward Diehm and daughters, Nancy and Mary Ann; Mr. and Mrs. John Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Hallman, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dinono and children, Jackie and Renell; Mr. and Mrs. William Scherer Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Paul Haring, Mr. and Mrs. Lorin Buckwalter and children, Joan and Barbara; Mrs. Joseph Edell and sons, Harold and John; Mrs. Helen Gray and Miss Marlene Hoffman.

Miss Jo Anne Applegate (above), daughter of Mrs. Evelyn Trout Applegate, 105 High street, will be graduated today from Linden Hall Academy at Lititz. During her three years at Linden Hall, Miss Applegate participated in many activities including the May Day festival, the bicentennial pageant and the Queen's court. In addition she has been a member of the Dance club, the Bit and Spur club, the Glee club, the chapel choir, the Hiking club, the French and Spanish club and the "Gold Four," an honorary society.

Navy Mothers Accomplish Large Amount of Sewing

Women in the Navy Mothers club have been sewing fast the past two weeks, announcing at their regular meeting last night in the Emmanuel Lutheran church that they had completed 24 large bed pads, 155 operating towels as well as a great deal of other mending for Memorial hospital. All this was done within the last two weeks.

It was also reported that several from the group had visited five wards in Philadelphia Naval hospital with donations given by Mrs. Susan Torah, Mrs. Eli Peterson and Mr. Reuben Ellis. Others making the trip included Mrs. Ellis and Mrs. Gwladys Hilpot.

Members stated that the station wagon had made four trips to Valley Forge General hospital and one trip to the Coatesville hospital.

A sum of $25 was donated by the group to the Civic Association of the West Pottsgrove township. A sum of $20.75 was received by the group as a donation to their Navy canteen.

Following a business meeting a birthday party was held for Mrs. Florence Frain with greeting cards, flowers and gifts bestowed upon her.

Hostesses last night were Mrs. Sarah Lessig, Mrs. Helen Kinckinger, Mrs. Judy Decker and Mrs. Susan Antrim.

Soroptimist Club To Give $250 to Memorial Hospital

The Soroptimist club of Pottstown voted last night to donate $250 to Memorial hospital in partial payment of the debt incurred in furnishing the lobby during the recent renovations.

The meeting, conducted in the Clover Leaf restaurant, was presided over by Mrs. Anna Waggoner, president.

Mrs. Mary McElroy, local florist, was initiated into the club in a ceremony performed by Mrs. Waggoner.

Plans were completed for the annual installation dinner to be staged at the Brookside Country club, Tuesday, June 22 at 6:30 o'clock in the evening. Speaker on this occasion will be the Rev. C. R. Rahn, humorist, of Muhlenberg. Music will be supplied by Mrs. Gladys Villard, of Bethlehem, vocalist.

Mrs. Grace Rader, a representative of the Chamber of Commerce, addressed the club on the Security Bond drive.

"The American woman handles the purse strings of the nation," declared Mrs. Rader. "Yours is the largest share of responsibility for keeping America sound. The nation's economy can be as sound only as 'the American' family."

"Invest to the limit in the best investment in the world—Security Savings bonds," the speaker advised. "Let's keep America prosperous and at peace."

Bridal Shower Held For Betty Kolarz in Grant Street Home

Miss Betty Kolarz was pleasantly surprised with a bridal shower given her by her mother, Mrs. Matilda Kolarz, at her home at 520 Grant street recently.

Miss Kolarz will become the bride of Phillip (Jimmy) DeAngelo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frances DeAngelo, 10 West High street, Stowe, July 3, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon with the Rev. John Campbell performing the ceremony in St. Aloysius Catholic church.

Gifts for the bride were attached to pink and blue streamers which stretched from a large white umbrella to the table in the dining room. In the living rooms, white wedding bells were the decoration.

Following the opening of gifts a buffet luncheon was served with the centerpiece for the pink, white and blue gayly decorated table, a large shower cake topped with a doll holding an umbrella from which streamers were draped.

Those attending were the Mesdames, Joseph Verno, John Slobodkin, Peter Hish, Michael Chinitala, Joseph Costa, George Boos, Laura Gerhart, Ann Rudzinski, John Krause, John Olonich, Ann Reiter, Michael Drabinsky, John Drabinsky, Edmund Drabinsky, Andrew Turpak, Robert Groom, Alfred Kolarz, Joseph Lukens, Mrs. Frances DeAngelo, Tony DeAngelo, Fanny Lloyd, Sara Gnswood, Emery Grady, Cora Harner, Mary Weinhold, Edna Davidheiser, William Himes, Mary Drabinsky and Matilda Kolarz.

Also the Mesdames Helen Lengyel, Mary Guida, Mary Yanusko, Becky Saraceni, Anne Musko, Dorothy Koss, Barbara Yonkovich, Mary Novak, Berna Bodolius, Ann Drabinsky, Susanne Drabinsky, Carol Ann Groom, Grace Moyer, Alma Moyer, Betty Kolarz and the Mesdames, Ronnie Turpak and Jimmy DeAngelo.

Salvation Army Auxiliary Completes Plans For June Festival Scheduled on Friday

Final plans are being completed for the First Annual June Festival of the ladies' auxiliary of the Salvation Army which is expected to be their most gala event of the year. The affair will be held in the form of a combined block party and country fair on Friday night with the entire block on Penn street from King to Chestnut to be barricaded for the many booths.

The festival is scheduled to start at 4 o'clock in the afternoon and continue until a late hour. In case of rain the booths will be moved to the armory.

To add to the festive atmosphere all booths will be gayly decorated and will contain home made cakes, pies, candy of all kinds, stuffed toys, flowers, potted plants, fresh garden produce, eggs, soft drinks, watermelon, ice cream, sandwiches, hot dogs, and novelties of all kinds.

Aprons, fancy goods and children's wear, which the sewing committee has been working on for months will be on sale. A fishing pond will be conducted for the kiddies. Tables will be provided for those who wish to sit down to eat. Arrangements have been made to have a sound truck broadcast music for the affair.

Mrs. Frances Leh, chairman of the ways and means committee, is in charge of all arrangements with the following assisting in various booths: Mrs. Eva Moyer, Mrs. George McLain, Mrs. Adele LeVelle, Mrs. Helen Emery, Mrs. Ethel Kohler, Mrs. Hazel Peiffer, Mrs. O. C. Bearcraft, Mrs. Mary Berthold, Mrs. Stella Arnold, Mrs. Nellie Kulp, Florence Liegl, Mrs. Leidenberger, Mrs. Eva Steiges and Mrs. Anna Swavely.

Also Mrs. Bessie Sowers, Mrs. Marie Montague, Mrs. Katherine Roadarmel, Mrs. Clara Kimm, Mrs. Marie Hanley, Mrs. Helen Antrim, Mrs. Mae Reitz, Mrs. Elmer Snell, Mrs. Minnie Rhoads, Mrs. Mary Overholzer, Mrs. Betty Hallman, Mrs. Betty Loughlin, Mrs. Gloria Overholzer, Mrs. Edna Harp, Mrs. Mabel Roup, Mrs. Dorothy Merkel, Mrs. Luverra Bechtel and Mrs. Fay S. Speer.

Also Mrs. Esther Kendrick, Mrs. Betty Miller, Mrs. Nora St. Onge, Mrs. Ann Smith, Mrs. Myrtle Knause, Mrs. Ruth Linton, Mrs. Paul Fisher, Mrs. Kathryn Wolf, Mrs. Lottie Endy, Mrs. Edna DeKalb, Mrs. Brooke Walt, Mrs. A. A. Gallo and Capt. and Mrs. Merle Cox.

When servings of meat for dinner are going to be small, serve eggs for breakfast or lunch to add to the family's day's supply of protein.

Two Pastors Officiate at Evening Rites Of Norman Pederseu and Miss Jane Reid

In an evening ceremony performed Saturday, Miss Jane Reid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Reid, Spring City, became the bride of Mr. Norman P. Pederseu, son of Mr. and Mrs. Christian P. Pederseu, of Summit, N. J., in the Spring City Methodist church.

Officiating at the ceremony were the Rev. Lloyd Stevens, of Ocean City, N. J., assisted by the pastor of the church, the Rev. Charles F. Salkeld. Preceding the ceremony Miss Marian Fry Ferrara, Spring City, presided at the organ and during the ceremony, Miss Alice Stumetz, Allentown, presented several appropriate bridal selections.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a gown of white satin fashioned on princess lines and featuring a long train. Her tulle veil was draped from a coronet head dress of seed pearls and she carried white roses and gardenias, arranged in a shower bouquet.

THE BRIDE'S sister, Miss Peggy Reid, attended her as maid of honor, wearing a pink marquisette designed with low neckline on the tightly fitted bodice which was attached to a very full skirt. She wore a halo of roses and delphiniums, which matched the flowers she carried.

Miss Elsie Foote, Upper Darby, and Miss Mary Hershey, Spruce Grove, wore gowns similar to the maid of honor's. Miss Jean Ramoth, Norristown; and Miss Phyllis Van Ness, Caldwell, N. J., acted as bridesmaids in gowns of blue styled similar to that worn by the maid of honor. They were flowered halos in their hair matching the shower bouquets of roses and delphiniums which they carried.

Dressed in a gown of white organdy, Nancy Jane May, Spring City, tiny friend of the bride, served as flower girl and carried a white basket filled with white rose petals which she delicately tossed in the aisle.

PERFORMING the duties of best man was Mr. Buddy Socco, Chatham, N. J., while the ushers included the Messrs. Ben Monticello, N. Y.; George McKelvey, Chatham, N. J.; George Lillieholm, Chatham, and Jack Armstrong, Seaside Heights, N. J.

A reception at the bride's home followed the ceremony.

Mrs. Pederseu is a graduate of Spring City High school and the West Chester State Teachers college. She has been vocal supervisor

A take-off on a breakfast program was staged by the Community club recently at its final meeting of the year. Eugene H. Miller, of the Ursinus college faculty, was master of ceremonies at the program which was complete with fancy and funny hats, and prizes for youngest, oldest and many other features. Mrs. Lydia Detwiler, 92, and Mrs. Sarah Grater, 86, received prizes for being the two oldest women present.
After the program, a brief business meeting was held and all annual reports were given. Mrs. Blair Miller, the retiring president, then presented the president-elect, Mrs. Louis Cornish, who appointed her committee chairman for the ensuing year. Refreshments were served and a social hour was held.
At the regular monthly meeting of the Byron Fegley post, American Legion auxiliary, held at the home of Mrs. Helen Burness, of Arcola, a dinner was served to the members prior to a business meeting.

40 Dead, 28 Missing In West Coast Flood

PORTLAND, Ore., June 14 (AP) — The Pacific Northwest's flood toll rose to 40 known dead and at least 28 missing today, just as the Columbia river began nearing the end of its most costly rampage.
The Columbia, miles beyond its banks, still stood at 30.2 feet this morning at Vancouver, Wash. — the same peak it reached June 1 for the first time since 1894. But upstream it was falling, and the river forecaster predicted 4 of a foot drop at Vancouver by tomorrow.
It will take many days for the submerged houses, industries, and farms to be uncovered again. The Army engineers warned that the receding waters bring still a new danger: current suction which may pull the earth from still holding dikes.

Harlan McVeigh Named New Councilman In Fourth Ward by Spring City Solons

The recent election of a new borough councilman for Spring City came to light at the monthly meeting of the solons last night.

The reading of the minutes of a special meeting held the past Wednesday night revealed that council had then elected Harlan McVeigh, 568 Cedar street, as a member from the Fourth ward, to succeed Guss Frey, who had resigned at the April meeting.

Harry Lee, also a Fourth ward member, who had resigned verbally at the same time, and resigned in writing at the May meeting, remained a member. Council had rejected both resignations, but rescinded the action on Frey at the special meeting, when he insisted on withdrawing.

Lee did not contest council's rejection of his resignation, so he automatically retained his seat and occupied his chair last night.

DURING THE MEETING last night, it was revealed the Pennsylvania Railroad company plans to try and force the issue of obtaining permission to supplant the present safety gates at the crossing on East Bridge street, with an automatic device.

For several years the railroad company has asked council's permission to replace the gates with an automatic flasher and automatic safety gates. Each request was turned down.

Last night the railroad company advised council in a communication it has filed application with the Public Utilities commission for a public hearing in the matter, which has been scheduled for July 8, at 10 a. m. in Norristown.

COUNCIL WENT INTO a discussion of the matter and decided on motion to oppose the application, naming the street committee to procure data on traffic conditions to present at the public hearing.

A communication from Earl R. Ewing, an engineer employed by Daniel Mosteller, who built a home on Poplar street, claimed the sidewalk on Poplar street is out of line, and the curb and gutter are not in the proper place. Council was not able immediately to determine the reason, but tabled the matter temporarily to await a meeting of the street committee and street commissioner, who will meet on the scene.

Council on motion decided to advertise for bids for resurfacing Main street, from New street to a point south of Chestnut street. After this action a motion was carried to notify the Home Water company and Philadelphia Electric company that any new streets may not be opened for a period of ten years in the future, except in the case of an emergency.

UNDER REPORT OF the sidewalk committee, Councilman Howard Barclay presented a list of names of owners of dead trees, after which council decided on motion to send notices to all owners of dead trees and those with overhanging limbs to trim them.

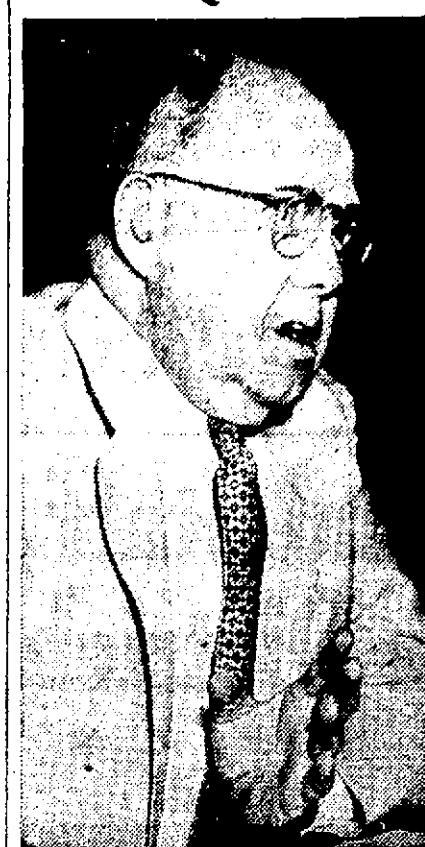

Under report of the police committee, council accepted a recommendation of the committee that Chief of Police John Hanebury be authorized to move his office from his home to the borough hall. Council also voted to provide him with a desk and filing cabinet in the borough hall.

Council passed an ordinance submitted by Kenneth Rothermel, chairman of ordinance committee, providing for the laying of sidewalks in the borough. Action was taken authorizing the purchase of a weed burner. Harold Turner, owner of the former H. G. Peterman property, North Main street, will be sent a notice to remove an old stepping stone along the curb in front of the property, which it was claimed provides a handicap for cars attempting to park there.

Melvin Stroop, Main and Hall street, appeared before council and explained with an apology that he had erred in starting to build an apartment without first obtaining permission. Council accepted the apology and granted him permission to complete the work, providing he connects to the sewage system within 60 days.

OTHER PERMISSIONS granted were: Joseph Powers, to build frame tool shed, Plum alley; Robert Schindler, to build 8x10 Summer house on Broad street; Dr. Howard Whitaker, Yost avenue, to build three concrete garages with apartment on top; John Hanebury and Nicholas Noel, 307 and 309 South Main street, to lay cement sidewalk. Ernest Hutman, Main and Hall

To Quit Post

Max Ball (above), director of the interior department's oil and gas division, said in Washington that he will resign his post. He also came out with an optimistic report that the nation's supply for gas for this summer and fall "looks pretty good."

Committee Appointed By Rebekah Lodge

Marcella Rebekah lodge 459, Spring City, will hold its meeting tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. The social committee for June consists of Margaret Hughes, Marguerite Bell and Hannah Shakespeare.

At a previous meeting the members of the lodge gave a surprise supper and entertainment for the members of the installing staff. The entertainment committee, comprising Martha Shenafeld, Hazel Wise and Harriet Shaner, arranged the affair.

street, also was granted permission to remodel kitchen and add one room, providing his plans comply with the existing ordinance.

Report of Tax Collector Norman Mowrey showed he has liquidated the 1947 tax account. According to the report, he has collected $10.50 over the amount of the duplicate. Amount paid to borough treasurer was $518.79, liens filed were $244.80, and exonerations granted were $243.

Report of Health Officer John Hanebury listed 17 quarantines for communicable diseases and 17 lifted. Report of Hanebury as chief of police listed routine duties and investigations, total fines, $40 and total red tickets, $12.

Graham pointed out, however, that the office never had to cope with Christmas cards. This problem came up only during later years.

THERE WERE NO uniforms and no mechanical aids to the postman in the early days, he continued. Men worked ten to 14 hours every day, canceling all the mail by hand. Now, canceling machines take care of out-going mail, the men work only eight hours a day and trucks have speeded delivery.

A native of Pottstown, Graham, who lives at 531 North Franklin street, has fulfilled both the age and length of service requirements for retirement. He plans to rest after his retirement to overcome a nervous condition which was incurred after he had been struck by an automobile at High and Evans almost a year ago.

With several vertebrae dislocated, he was forced to wear a steel brace for seven months while recovering.

Doehler's 1948 City-Industrial titlists regained some of their championship form last night by topping the Colored All-Stars out of first place with a 5-2 triumph on Franklin Field before approximately 450 fans.

The All-Stars gave the Diecasters a scare in the sixth inning when they put two runners on base with none out. Doehler's, however, called on Nels Weidenbaugh to replace starter Gene Acker on the hill and the southpaw turned in a brilliant performance during his short stay on the mound.

Weidenbaugh picked Billy Barber off base for one out in the sixth and then fanned Jim Howard and Shorty Stanford. In the seventh, he struck out Ed Johnson and Curly Ricketts, walked Al Walton, and got Carl Corum on a routine grounder to the mound.

DOEHLER'S WASTED little time in pounding starter Len Ricketts. The champs scored in the first on a walk to Dixie Raynor, an infield out and Paul Pfeiffer's double to left. Manager Jim Egolf's crew then added single runs in the next two innings before they chased Ricketts in fourth with a two-run sprint.

Acker, Raynor, Gerry Egolf and Pfeiffer collected consecutive singles to account for two runs before Ricketts came in to put out the fire.

Curly Ricketts went the rest of the way, keeping the Diecasters hitless for the last three innings. He came in with none out in the fourth.

Acker was wild in the first two innings, but perfect throws by catcher Egolf picked two runners off the base paths in the first frame. He settled down after that but allowed seven hits the rest of the way.

He lost his shutout in the third inning when Johnson singled, stole second and moved to third on Len Ricketts' single from whence he scored by beating Bill Egolf's throw to the plate on Bill Smith's grounder.

Sigel Captures Medal Of Women's Golf Title

PHILADELPHIA, June 14 (AP) — Helen Sigel, Pennsylvania State champion, toured the Aronimink Golf course in 80 strokes today to win the medal of the Philadelphia Women's championship.

Miss Sigel, who shot a one-under par 37 on the first nine and came home in 43, finished a stroke in front of Babe Benson of the Sunnyside club. Miss Benson had a 41-40-81.

Mrs. Edna Bush, wife of the Brandywine Country club pro, had a 42-40-82 for third place. The 16 low scorers begin match play tomorrow.

St. James strengthened its hold on first place in the Sunday School league last night with an overwhelming 15-2 triumph over Transfiguration on Swinehart Field.

The victory boosted St. James' lead over second place Trinity Reformed to one full game.

Clarence Albitz went the distance to gain his third win of the year for St. James. He allowed 11 base hits but kept them well scattered to stay out of trouble.

Transfiguration sent Russ Meyers to the hill against the league leaders. The big right-hander held St. James to four runs in the first four innings but then the roof fell in.

St. James exploded for five runs in the fifth inning and added five more in the sixth frame to put the game on ice.

Ed Jameson paced the St. James attack with three hits in five appearances at the plate.

Mack Cleans A's Mound Staff, Fires Potter, Releases Dietrich

Sounds Off

CONNIE MACK

PITTSBURGH, June 14 (AP)—Connie Mack exploded one of his loudest verbal blasts in 62 years of baseball trials and tribulations today after cutting loose two veteran pitchers.

The 85-year-old owner-manager of the Philadelphia Athletics fired Nelson Potter, 36-year-old relief hurler. And he gave Bill Dietrich, dean of American league pitchers at 38, his unconditional release subject to waiver by other American league clubs.

Potter got the pink slip after losing yesterday's first game to the St. Louis Browns. Dietrich was released at his own request.

Quite frankly, Connie said he'd made "mistakes" on both men. While he was at it, the head man of the Athletics listed another "mistake" — selling pitcher Russ Christopher.

HERE FOR an exhibition game against the Pittsburgh Pirates, the mild-mannered Philadelphia leader fairly bristled as he explained his firing of Potter.

"Here is my story about what happened when Potter came in yesterday after losing that game for me," Mack said.

"I said, 'Were you doing your best out there?'"

"I ALSO SAID to him, 'I paid $20,000 for you and that was my mistake. I don't care how good a pitcher ever was, has been or could be. All I care about is how much good he is now.'"

"That is what I've been telling all of them ever since I have been in this business."

Mack went on to say, "I admit I made a lot of bad talk in what I had to say to both Dietrich and Potter but damn it all we're out to win and when you don't win you don't play and you don't stay with my ball club."

Potter left for his home at Mt. Morris, Ill., last night following the unfortunate clubhouse incident.

IT ALL HAPPENED after Potter relieved Lefty Lou Brissie in the eighth inning of the first game against St. Louis with the bases loaded, none out and one run in. The A's led 5 to 2.

Potter walked Joe Schultz and Paul Lehner socked a single to left, the tying run scoring on the blow and the winning run coming in on an error by outfielder Ray Coleman on the same play. Mack waved Potter to the bench after another St. Louis bingle drove in a run.

Mack had his run-in with Dietrich earlier.

The bespectacled right hander complained about his lack of pitching assignments and said that if he couldn't get his regular turn he'd prefer an unconditional release.

"You have it," retorted the A's manager.

REFERRING to Dietrich today, Mack said, "He cost me $35,000. I paid him $10,000 for signing and $12,500 each for the past year and this year. I paid him in full when I let him go yesterday."

"I am always making mistakes," Mack said as he let loose pent-up ire at the two pitchers.

"I made a mistake in letting Russ Christopher go," he said, referring to the pre-season trade that sent the string bean Christopher to the Cleveland Indians in a cash deal.

Asked what he intended to do about the situation that found him with only five healthy pitchers on hand, Mack said he had several deals in mind but did not desire to discuss them since he wasn't sure they could be completed.

Boyertown Nine Loses By 3-0 To Reading Foe

The Cement Finishers and Plasterers of Reading scored single runs in the third, fifth and eighth innings last night to edge the Boyertown IOOF softball team by a 3-0 score under the lights at Boyertown.

Stan Manuel, Reading pitcher, held Boyertown to three hits during the game and was never in serious trouble. He had full control of the Boyertown team from start to finish.

Bob Brumbach and Don Nagle shared pitching duties for Boyertown, with Brumbach getting charged with the defeat.

During batting practice prior to the game, Harold Endy, Boyertown player, was hit in the face by a piece of broken bat while sitting on the Boyertown bench. He was knocked unconscious and was taken to the Pottstown hospital.

It was reported at the hospital that he suffered lacerations of the lips, loss of several teeth and possible fracture of the sinus bones.

Four Cardinal Scouts Watch 35 Players Display Talents

Thirty-five eager and hopeful ball toasters displayed their wares before the watchful eyes of four St. Louis Cardinal scouts on the Roversford high school baseball field yesterday.

The aspirants, coming from as far as West Chester and Philadelphia, responded to a recent announcement from the St. Louis National league club, offering tryouts for those who "make the grade."

Included in the array of talent were many from Pottstown, Roversford, Spring City, Boyertown, Linfield and Colleg, some of whom recently graduated from high schools in the area.

Headed by Charles "Pop" Ketcher, dean of Cardinal scouts, the other scouts who looked the boys over were Bennie Borgman, a former manager of the Cards; Hugh East, former twirler in the Texas league; and Joe Sugden, former catcher in the major leagues, who played behind the plate for 13 years with Pittsburgh, St. Louis and Cleveland. Robert McNelly, coach of Roversford high school squad, assisted the big league scouts.

EVERY CANDIDATE was given an opportunity to show his talent yesterday, the first of three days the scouts will remain in Roversford.

After filling out questionnaire cards, the boys were sent out onto the field, where they were given turns at their respective positions in practice innings. The candidates will report again today and tomorrow, at 11 a. m.

Pottstown boys who responded included Dick Harter, third base; Arthur Freumuth, outfield; William Saunders, infielder; Ralph Moses, shortstop; John Snyder, catcher; Norman Sundstrom, shortstop; and William Mignona Jr., outfielder.

PROM ROVERS FORD were Bill Flemings, first baseman; John Neborak, shortstop; Ralph Ochs, infielder; and Elvin Wolfe, outfielder.

Spring City: Jim Mull, pitcher and outfielder; Dick Mull, pitcher; Artie Stauffer, catcher; Dick McKissic, first base, and Richard Stauffer, first baseman.

Boyertown: Jacob Hartline, third baseman; Jack Schonefly, first baseman; Victor Fritzman, catcher, and Paul Moatz Jr., pitcher.

that if he couldn't get his regular turn he'd prefer an unconditional release.

"You have it," retorted the A's manager.

REFERRING to Dietrich today, Mack said, "He cost me $35,000. I paid him $10,000 for signing and $12,500 each for the past year and this year. I paid him in full when I let him go yesterday."

"I am always making mistakes," Mack said as he let loose pent-up ire at the two pitchers.

"I made a mistake in letting Russ Christopher go," he said, referring to the pre-season trade that sent the string bean Christopher to the Cleveland Indians in a cash deal.

Asked what he intended to do about the situation that found him with only five healthy pitchers on hand, Mack said he had several deals in mind but did not desire to discuss them since he wasn't sure they could be completed.

With Potter and Dietrich gone and Dick Fowler, Phil Marchildon and Bill McCahan nursing ailments, the second place A's were in dire straits as they headed West for an important road trip. Only Joe Coleman, Bob Savage, Lou Brissie, Carl Schell and Charlie Harris are in top shape.

REDBIRDS COP 5TH STRAIGHT LEAGUE VICTORY

Blank New York Store By 5-0; Maria Assunta Edges East End by 5-4

The Pottstown Redbirds retained their grip on first place in the Pottstown City-Industrial softball league last night as they blanked the New York store, 5-0, on The Hill far fields.

It was the fifth consecutive triumph of the year for the Redbirds who have yet to taste defeat in league competition.

Willard Richards went the distance for the Redbirds, holding the New Yorkers to five hits. He was never in serious trouble and got some good support from his teammates.

The Redbirds opened with single runs in the first two innings and then added a pair of markers in the third. The victors tabbed their final counter in the fifth.

IN ANOTHER GAME last night, Maria Assunta upset East End's 1947 softball champions with a three run rally in the fifth, 5-4.

A two-run sprint in the second inning enabled the East Enders to hold a 3-2 lead after the first three frames, but three runs in the fifth put Maria Assunta in front, 5-3. The champs touched Chick Boughter for a single run in the sixth but fell short of the mark by one run.

Each team collected eight hits, but four of Maria Assunta's safeties were good for two bases.

Southpaws Having Trouble Winning in Major Leagues

NEW YORK, June 14 (AP)—Despite the presence of such fine left handers as Hal Newhouse, Warren Spahn, Harry Brecheen, Joe Page and Rookies Gene Bearden and Curt Simmons, the southpaw contingent in the majors is having a rough time of it this year.

Musial Takes Over Batting Leadership In National Loop

NEW YORK, June 14 (AP)—Stan Musial of St. Louis is the new batting leader in the National league with a three-point edge over Tommy Holmes of Boston as the season approaches the one-third mark.

Musial, third a week ago, surged past Holmes into the lead with a .376 on figures including yesterday's games. Holmes is second at .373. The Cardinals' ace also took over first place in runs with 44, total hits with 73 and triples with eight.

There is a 21-point gap separating Holmes from third-place Wally Westlake of Pittsburgh, .352. Then comes Richie Ashburn of Philadelphia, who dropped 24 points to .344 during the week.

FRANK GUSTINE of Pittsburgh and Sid Gordon of New York are tied for fourth at .338, followed by Johnny Blatnik of Philadelphia, .331; Andy Pafko of Chicago, .325; Hal Jeffcoat of Chicago, .318, and Enos Slaughter of St. Louis, .310.

Although Musial did regain the lead in several individual departments he gave way to Cincinnati's Hank Sauer in the runs batted in chase. Sauer has driven home 48 and Ralph Kiner of Pittsburgh is second with 43 RBIs. Sauer added three more homers to make his league-leading total 19.

Jim Russell of Boston is tops with 14 doubles and Ashburn continues to burn up the base paths with 15 stolen bases, five more than the American league leader.

BOBBY RIGGS OPENS BID FOR THIRD PRO TITLE

Defending Champ Has Easy Time in First Round; Kramer in Quarter-Finals

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., June 14 (AP)—Bouncing Bobby Riggs of Altadena, Calif., opened the bid for his third straight title with an easy straight-set victory today in the National Professional Tennis championships.

Riggs, top-seeded, blew Ernie Koslan of White Plains, N. Y., aside 6-1, 6-1, 6-2.

Jack Kramer of Los Angeles, who has beaten Riggs decisively on their cross-country tour, gained the quarter-finals with a 6-1, 6-0, 6-2 triumph over Robert Stubbs of Scarsdale, N. Y.

KRAMER, seeded second, is a heavy favorite to displace Riggs as king of the pros.

Kramer was joined in the round of eight by Frank Kovacs, No. 4 seed, who ousted Bob Harman of Los Angeles, 6-3, 6-2, 6-0.

Don Budge, the Hollywood, Calif., veteran who once dominated the amateur and later professional courts, showed spectators at the West Side Tennis club a bit of his old prowess as he easily eliminated George Hudson of Los Angeles, 6-0, 6-0, 6-0.

Wesley Van Horn, Wayne Sabin and Elwood Cooke were other seeded players to prevail.

VAN HORN of Germantown, Pa., No. 5 seed and 1945 winner, overwhelmed Johnny Nogrady of New York, 6-1, 3-6, 6-1, 6-1.

Sabin, No. 7 of Bretton Woods, N. H., eliminated Harold Baluer of New York, 6-5, 6-3, 6-4.

Elwood Cooke of New York City, No. 8, easily won over Dick McKee of Miami, Fla., 6-0, 8-6, 6-0.

The only surprise was a mild one. Jack March of Kansas City, Mo., seeded 12th, was defeated by Dick Van Den Bosch of Sunnyside, N. Y., 6-4, 9-7, 5-7, 7-5.

Top-ranked foreign entry, Dinny Pails of Australia, vanquished George Seewagen of Jackson Heights, N. Y., 6-2, 6-0, 6-1, and set a pattern for the outside players.

Photos of World Events

Three girls reach for the ball during an exciting water game at London's Hyde park.

Dance team of Rosario and Antonio go through rehearsal in New York of 'The Fire Dance', based on gypsy melody. They are dressed in traditional gypsy costumes worn in Cordoba, province of Andalusia, Spain.

At captain of the winning team, Sen. Charles Olson, Ashland, Mass., gets a congratulatory kiss from milkmaid Rachel Gordon, of Cambridge, following the annual milking contest between Vermont and Massachusetts. Making no pretense of hiding his chagrin, Vermont Sen. Arthur Simpson puts the blame on the poor cow who tried to be neutral. The contest was held on Boston Common.

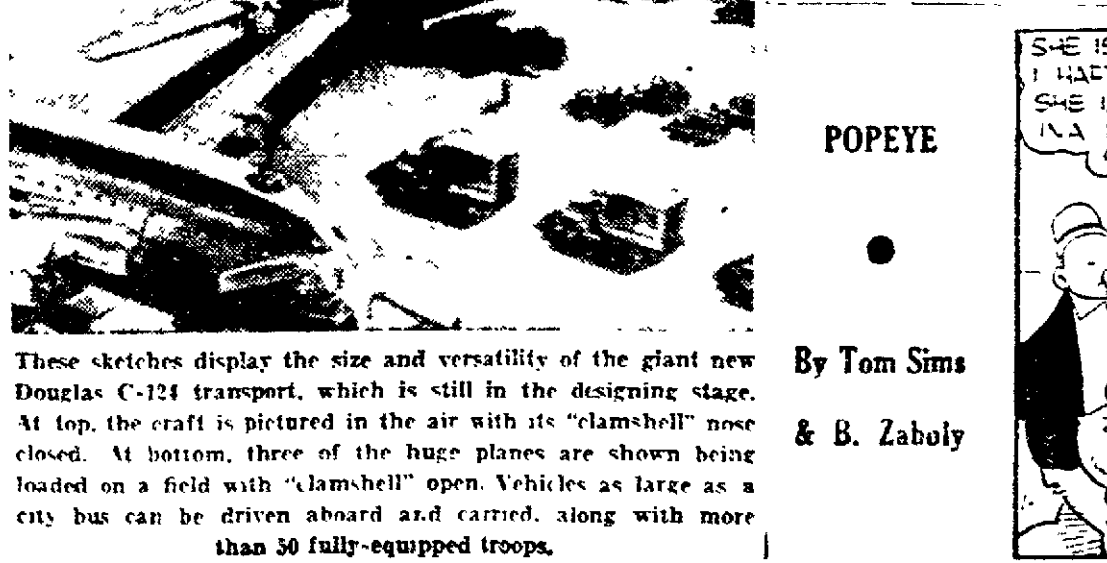

Three twin-engined U. S. Navy bombers, P2V-2 Neptunes, fly in formation against background of white clouds. Neptune, developed for anti-sub patrol use, has 3500-mile range and speed in excess of 300 miles an hour.

In this elaborate palace 20 miles from Athens ex-King Michael of Romania and his bride, Princess Anne of Bourbon-Parma, are honeymooning after their marriage in Greek capital. The palace, in a pine forest, is owned by King Paul. Later they'll go to Rhodes.

Receiving a heartier reception than he had ever been given before his recent election defeat, Jan C. Smuts, who resigned as prime minister of the Union of South Africa, is installed as Chancellor of Cambridge college, England.

These sketches display the size and versatility of the giant new Douglas C-124 transport, which is still in the designing stage. At top, the craft is pictured in the air with its 'clamshell' nose closed. At bottom, three of the huge planes are shown being loaded on a field with 'clamshell' open. Vehicles as large as a city bus can be driven aboard and carried, along with more than 30 fully-equipped troops.

In Memoriam 3
PIKE—In loving remembrance of a dear Mother, Altha E. Pike, who passed away June 14, 1943. Sadly missed by Daughters RUTH and ETHEL
RATH—In loving memory of our dear wife and mother, Margaret J. Rath, who passed away June 15, 1947.
A sweeter woman never lived
Whose gentle face and patient smile,
With smiles we recall,
You had a kindly word for each
And died beloved by all.

Stowe Club Delegates Return From Convention

Three members of the Stowe Club returned home the past Sunday after a one and one-half day session at a convention of the Pennsylvania Federation of Clubs, in Erie.

The men flew both ways piloted by John J. Basco, manager of the Pottstown Municipal airport. The trip took approximately 90 minutes.

Delegates to the convention were Willard S. Simmons, president; Stephen Selinger, secretary, and Arthur Detrick, chairman of the house committee.

Probably the first grape slips brought to California from the old world were off the Malaga strain, but they soon were known as Mission grapes.

High Court Upholds Right of Prisoner To Have a Lawyer

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—A prisoner who is incapable of defending himself "adequately" has an absolute right to the help of a lawyer in any kind of criminal case, the Supreme court ruled today.

If that help is denied, it said, a conviction cannot stand up. The 5-4 decision made a broad extension of the court's previous rule that counsel must be provided in cases where the death penalty might be imposed.

It came in a ruling which set aside the conviction of Donald Wade, then 18, who was sentenced in Palm Beach (Fla.) county court in 1945 to serve five years for burglary.

ALONG WITH its new rule on representation by counsel, the high court handed down other findings which:

1. Overturned a lower court ruling which in some cases would have required payments up to five times the face value of National Service (military) Life Insurance policies. The Justice department said tens of billions were involved and the whole financing structure of the federal insurance program threatened by the lower court order.

2. Denied Dr. Edward K. Barsky and 10 other leaders of the joint

Quads May Give Dad Priority for New Home

BRISTOL, England, June 14 (AP)—Charles Good's new quadruplet daughters may win him a priority for a new house.

Good told the Sodbury rural council today it would be a little difficult rearing his four new daughters in his primitive three-room cottage. It lacks gas, electricity and hot water.

He didn't get the priority immediately but councilmen said he has a pretty good case.

The quadruplets were born Saturday to 23-year-old Mrs. Margaret Good. Tonight, Southmead hospital said they were "progressing favorably." Mrs. Good is doing well.

Frances, second to be born, had her first meal today—one part milk to three parts sterile water—from a bottle. Her sisters, Bridget, Elizabeth and Jennifer, still are being fed sterile water through pipettes.

All are in oxygen tents. They are wearing embroidered bibs made for them by hospital nurses.

Dirt Offered to Help Fill Hillcrest Sump

Howard P. Whitaker, 223 Yost avenue, Spring City, yesterday volunteered to donate a truckload of dirt to help eliminate the North Kem street water hole which menaces the lives of children in the Hillcrest area.

A delay in deliveries of dirt to the site have prevented The Hill, which owns the property, from filling it in completely.

Last night Mrs. Whitaker said she would call Radcliffe W. Bristol, building superintendent at The Hill, this morning to offer the dirt from an excavation at her home. "It would only be hauled away anyway," she added, "so it might as well be used for a good purpose."
